

YOUTH AND SUSTAINABLE
PEACEBUILDING

EDITED BY HELEN BERENTS, CATHERINE
BOLTEN, SIOBHAN MCEVOY-LEVY

Sustainable peace involves more than simply including youth in official peacebuilding mechanisms or recognising their local peacebuilding work; it requires a transformation in thinking about the youth as actors in the world of security and peace.

Using case studies from around the globe, the contributors to this volume analyse why states are afraid of their young people, why ‘youth participation’ in formal peace processes matters but is insufficient, and ways that young people are working outside of official systems to create and nurture peace on their own terms.

The volume offers guidance for ways to bridge the disconnect that exists between institutional assumptions and expectations for youth as peacebuilders and the actual sustainable peace leadership of youth. Throughout, it emphasises a critical approach to peacebuilding with, for and by youth.

‘In focusing on youth-centered activism and approaches to peace, this volume challenges — and potentially contributes to changing — what “experts” and policymakers believe they know about peacebuilding.’ — Graeme Simpson, Principal Representative (NY) & Senior Peacebuilding Adviser, Interpeace

Jewellery - The unexpected meaning of curious things

BARBARA SCHMIDT, OLGA ZOBEL BIRO

Daniel Kruger's (b. 1951) new monograph Jewellery – The unexpected meaning of curious things presents his jewellery art of the last ten years.

Kruger, who grew up in South Africa, studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich and taught at the University of Art and Design at Burg Giebichenstein in Halle. He gives things an unexpected meaning. Inspired by movement and his fascination with the visual quality of materials and objects, shapes, and colours, he creates a synthesis of supposed opposites, and it is this new context that elevates these connections into something precious. Through his freedom of thought, he creates a world of objects to be contemplated, but above all to adorn the body and the human being. Text in English and German.

S.A.L.I.R. - STUDIO ARS ET LABOR INDUSTRIE RIUNITE

Contemporary Glass-Decorating on Murano, 1923-1993

MARC HEIREMANS

In 1924, five young Italians founded the Studio Ars et Labor Industrie Riunite (S.A.L.I.R.) with the aim of modernising the ancient art of glass-decorating: Giuseppe D'Alpaos, Decio Toso, Guglielmo Barbini, Dino Martens, and Gino Francesconi.

In 1928, the emergence of Franz Pelzel, a Bohemian glass engraver, and Guido Balsamo Stella, an all-round artist, marked the start of the production for which S.A.L.I.R. is most remembered today: contemporary glass-engraving. After Balsamo Stella's departure in 1932, Franz Pelzel took the lead role of designer, occasionally also executing designs by other reputed artists. Based on the factory's archives, Marc Heiremans illustrates the artistic evolution of S.A.L.I.R. through numerous drawings and period photographs. As well as being a catalogue raisonne, it is also an in-depth study shedding light on paramount developments in Murano's glass-making history.

MARIE DUVAL

Maverick Victorian Cartoonist

SIMON GRENNAN, ROGER SABIN, JULIAN WAITE

Marie Duval: Maverick Victorian Cartoonist offers the first critical appraisal of the work of Marie Duval (Isabelle Émilie de Tessier, 1847–1890), one of the most unusual, pioneering and visionary cartoonists of the later nineteenth century.

It discusses key themes and practices of Duval's vision and production, relative to the wider historic social, cultural and economic environments in which her work was made, distributed and read, identifying Duval as an exemplary radical practitioner.

The book interrogates the relationships between the practices and the forms of print, storytelling, drawing and stage performance. It focuses on the creation of new types of cultural work by women and highlights the style of Duval's drawings relative to both the visual conventions of theatre production and the significance of the visualisation of amateurism and vulgarity.

SIGURD BRONGER

Wearables

EDITED BY DIE NEUE
SAMMLUNG — THE DESIGN
MUSEUM

Hollow goose eggs, natural sponges, packaging, balloons featuring smileys, shoe soles, scientific gauges, or even his mother’s gallstones — the repertoire of things elevated to jewellery objects knows no bounds for the Norwegian artist Sigurd Bronger. His ‘portable objects’ are turned into wearables by means of artful hanging mechanisms.

For Bronger, jewellery is a means of communication. The questions he poses with his works relate to function and use, decoration, aesthetic, and beauty, and his works invite us to see things anew: does the beautiful really have to be useless and the practical aesthetically uninteresting?

Text in English and German.

THE SOUND OF DIFFERENCE

Race, class and the politics of ‘diversity’ in classical music
KRISTINA KOLBE

What happens when the elitist space of ‘Western’ classical music seeks to diversify itself? And what are the social effects worked through diversity discourses in classical music institutions?

The Sound of Difference addresses these concerns by critically examining how diversity work takes shape in a cultural sector so deeply implicated in hierarchies of class, structures of whiteness, and legacies of imperialism. The book draws from ethnographic and interview data to analyse how diversity discourses become constructed in the organisational and creative processes of music production.

ROUND OUR WAY

Sam Hanna’s visual legacy
HEATHER NICHOLSON

Sam Hanna (1903-96), a pioneering filmmaker from Burnley, Lancashire, was dubbed the ‘Lowry of filmmaking’ by BBC broadcaster Brian Redhead in the 1980s. The well-meant label stuck, even though it misses the variety of Hanna’s remarkable output.

Hanna’s intimate glimpses into the lives of strangers enable us to imagine the possible stories that lie behind the images. Away from mid-century exponents of documentary filmmaking and photography, Hanna shows us humanity and a microcosm of a world in change, where his subjects are caught up in issues far beyond their grasp that we, as onlookers years later, encounter and see afresh.

FINDING THE WAY TO ‘LONG DAY’S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT’

Eugene O’Neill and Carlotta Monterey O’Neill at Tao House
WILLIAM DAVIES KING

This book takes a fresh journey to Eugene O’Neill’s Long Day’s Journey Into Night, locating in the house, the marriage, and the historical circumstances in which it was written new keys to understanding this masterpiece of drama.

Eugene O’Neill wrote his most enduring and important plays after he won international acclaim as the first American playwright to receive the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1936. In the midst of the Great Depression, he and his third wife moved to California to escape the materialism and commercialism of a declining ‘West’, and they built a new home called Tao House. In this house he found the way to his most famous play, Long Day’s Journey Into Night.

THE POEMS OF ELIZABETH SIDDAL IN CONTEXT

ANNE WOOLLEY

A ground breaking new book that considers all Siddal poems with reference to female and primarily male counterparts, adding substantially to knowledge of her work as a writer, and their shared contemporary concerns.

Dante Rossetti, Swinburne, Tennyson, Ruskin and Keats were either known to her or a source of influence on the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood with which she was associated, and certain of their texts are compared with hers to discuss interplay between erotic and spiritual love, the ballad tradition, nineteenth-century feminism, and the Romantic concept of the conjoined physical and spectral body. Siddal's artwork is used to introduce each chapter, while other Pre-Raphaelite paintings illuminate the texts and further the interdisciplinary philosophy of the Brotherhood.

ROCHESTER AND THE PURSUIT OF PLEASURE

LARRY CARVER

Rochester and the pursuit of pleasure* provides a reading of Rochester's poems, dramatic works, and letters in a biographical context. In doing so, it sheds light on a central vexed issue in Rochester criticism, the relationship of the poet to his speaker.

It also reveals that Rochester's work clusters about a central theme, the pursuit of pleasure, a pursuit motivated by a courtship of purity that grew out of Rochester's Christian and God-fearing upbringing. This rhetoric of courtship, in turn, reveals the unity of Rochester's work as the courtier and his various personae try to persuade his audiences, secular and divine, of his worth.

SIR PHILIP SIDNEY: THE COUNTESS OF PEMBROKE'S ARCADIA

The New Arcadia, Second Revised Edition

EDITED BY VICTOR SKRETOKOWICZ, ELISABETH CHAGHAFI, J. B. LETHBRIDGE

Modern readers mostly know Sir Philip Sidney's Arcadia in its complete 'old' version, but it is the New Arcadia (published in 1590), a revised version of his pastoral romance The Countess of Pembroke's Arcadia, that was the most influential and most widely imitated literary text of the sixteenth century.

This edition of the New Arcadia is the first in nearly four decades, preserving the text of Victor Skretkovicz' celebrated 1987 edition, whilst making the text accessible through modern spelling and supplementing it with a substantially expanded scholarly commentary, an updated glossary, and additional notes.

DANTE BEYOND INFLUENCE

Rethinking reception in Victorian literary culture

FEDERICA COLUZZI

Dante Beyond Influence* is the first study to conceptualise and historicise the hermeneutic turn in Dante reception history and Victorian cultural history, charting its development across intellectual realms, agents and forms of readerly and writerly engagement.

Unearthing previously unseen manuscript and print evidence, the book conducts a material and book-historical inquiry into the formation and popularisation of the critical and scholarly discourse on Dante through Victorian periodicals, mass-publishing, traditional and Extramural higher education. The book demonstrates that the transformation of Dante from object of amateur interest to subject of systematic interpretive endeavours reflected paradigmatic changes in Victorian intellectual and socio-cultural history.

THIERRY AND THEODORET

John Fletcher, Philip Massinger and Nathan Field
DOMENICO LOVASCIO

Enthusiastically praised by Charles Lamb and A. C. Swinburne but unjustly neglected since the early twentieth century, Thierry and Theodoret dramatises events from medieval French history.

With its disenchanting depiction of royalty, its eerie instability in terms of genre, and its black comic overtones, Thierry and Theodoret strikes as a distinctive specimen of tragic drama in the Jacobean mould and ranks as one of the most powerful plays in the canon of John Fletcher and his collaborators. This Revels Plays volume is the first fully annotated critical edition of the play, and the first to attribute it to Nathan Field alongside Fletcher and Philip Massinger. It provides a thorough introduction reassessing the play's engagement with its sources — including Shakespeare.

This book invites inquiry into today's apocalyptic narratives, humanitarian reason, and international criminal justice regimes, as well as the precarity generated by citizen time and 'consulate time'. The aesthetic breaks emerging from the book's image-text montage draw attention to the ethics of encounter and passage that challenges colonial, domestic, and nation-statist sovereignty regimes of inattention.

Moving from a consideration of Castiglione's Book of the Courtier as a text that encouraged reader engagement, the book offers new readings of Shakespeare's plays in conjunction with Spenser. It pairs Love's Labour's Lost, Much Ado About Nothing, The Merchant of Venice, and The Winter's Tale with The Faerie Queene in order to explore how topics such as education, gender, religion, race, and aristocratic identity are offered up to reader and audience interpretation.

URBAN INFORMALITY

An Introduction

MELANIE LOMBARD, PHILIPP HORN

This book is the first to provide an introductory overview to the concept of ‘urban informality’, taking an international perspective across the global North and South. It explores theoretical understandings of the term, and looks at how it affects ways of living, such as land use, housing and basic services, working lives and politics.

Using a broad range of material to bring the topic to life, including non-conventional sources — such as fiction, poetry, photography, interviews and other media — the book helps students, practitioners and scholars develop learning and research on this topic. The book also includes interjections from diverse voices of practitioners, community activists and regional experts.

JOHANNA MANNERGREN, ANNIKA BJÖRKDAHL, SUSANNE BUCKLEY-ZISTEL, STEFANIE KAPPLER, TIMOTHY WILLIAMS

This important book provides new understandings of how the politics of memory impacts peace in societies transitioning from a violent past.

It does so by developing a theoretical approach focusing on the intersection of sites, agency, narratives, and events in memory-making. Drawing on rich empirical studies of mnemonic formations in Cyprus, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Rwanda, South Africa and Cambodia, the book speaks to a broad audience. The in-depth, cross-case analysis shows that inclusivity, pluralism, and dignity in memory politics are key to the construction of a just peace.

THE RISE OF DEVILS

Fear and the origins of modern terrorism

JAMES CROSSLAND

In the dying light of the nineteenth century, the world came to know and fear terrorism. Like today, this was a time of progress and dread, characterised by political and technological breakthroughs and waves of immigration that swelled the populations of ever-expanding cities.

The era also simmered with political rage and social inequalities, which drove nationalists, nihilists, anarchists and republicans to dynamite cities and gun down presidents, police chiefs and emperors. This wave of terror was seized upon by an outrage-hungry press that peddled hysteria, conspiracy theories and fake news in response, convincing many that they were living through the end of days.

AMANDA UDIS-KESSLER

Cultural Processes of Inequality: A Sociological Perspective shows how inequality is produced and reproduced through mundane, routine actions based on taken-for-granted assumptions about who should be treated well and who 'deserves' to be treated poorly.

Members of socially valued groups (such as white people and men) tend to receive the benefit of the doubt both personally and institutionally, while members of socially devalued groups tend to be denied the benefit of the doubt in both kinds of contexts. ## CO-CREATION IN PUBLIC SERVICES FOR INNOVATION AND SOCIAL JUSTICE

EDITED BY SUSAN BAINES, ROB WILSON, CHRIS FOX, INGA NARBUTAITE AFLAKI, ANDREA BASSI, HELI ARAMO-IMMONEN, RICCARDO PRANDINI

This book examines the idea and practice of co-creation in public services. Informed by practical action, lived experience and research from 10 countries across Europe, including the UK, it shines new light on the theory and reality of co-creation by conceptualising it in terms of human rights, social justice and social innovation.

Focusing on human dimensions, the book presents real life examples in public services as diverse as social care, health, work activation, housing and criminal justice. It also highlights the ways digital technologies can accelerate or hinder co-creation.

MIGRATION AND SOCIAL WORK

Approaches, Visions and Challenges

EDITED BY EMILIO JOSÉ GÓMEZ-CIRIANO, ELENA CABIATI, SOFIA DEDOTSI

With cross-cultural perspectives from contributors in nine countries, this book showcases much-needed research on current issues around migration and social work in Europe.

Focusing on the reception, experiences and integration of refugees and asylum seekers, the chapters also consider the impact of recent EU policies on borders and integration.

With racism on the rise in some European societies, the book foregrounds international social work values as a common framework to face discriminatory practice at macro and micro-levels.

SOCIAL WORK AND SOCIAL INNOVATION

Emerging Trends and Challenges for Practice, Policy and Education in Europe

EDITED BY JEAN PIERRE WILKEN, ANNE PARPAN-BLASER, SARAH PROSSER, SUZAN VAN DER PAS, ERIK JANSEN

This book provides a grounded exploration of innovation in the practice, research and education of social work.

It focuses on the role of participation, collaboration and co-creation as key drivers of social innovation within these fields, providing practical examples of social entrepreneurship, people-centred design and participatory led innovation.

The positive outcomes of local social innovations are analysed in the wider European framework, with reflections and recommendations for advancing innovation in policy, service provision, education and research.

THE ECONOMIC LIFE OF PLATFORMS

Rethinking the Political Economy of Digital Markets

EDITED BY ANNE METTE THORHAUGE, ANDREAS LINDEGAARD GREGERSEN, EVA IRIS OTTO, JACOB ØRMELEN, MORTEN AXEL PEDERSEN

This interdisciplinary collection rethinks the political economy of the digital market by asking what came before platforms and suggesting what might come after them.

By unpacking the concept of 'platform economies' into locally embedded variations of digital markets, the book identifies what is new about contemporary platforms and what is characteristic of wider historical, social and economic currents. The authors employ various analytical approaches, including in-depth ethnographic studies, and theoretical and analytical reconceptualisations of platforms and the industries they encompass.

CRIMES OF THE POWERFUL AND THE CONTEMPORARY CONDITION

The Democratic Republic of Capitalism

ADAM LYNES, JAMES TREADWELL, KYLA BAVIN

This accessible book provides a comprehensive understanding of elite corporate wrongdoing, holding each crumbling pillar of society to account, and considers both how we got into this mess and how we get out of it.

The ultimate expression of power is the ability to act beyond the confines of law, with contemporary society enabling elite groups to wield ‘panoramic power’.

From the murderous crimes of the corporate giants that provide us with life’s luxuries and necessities to the nefarious nature of knowledge harnessed by both media and educational institutions, the authors offer new thinking on damaging structures of power and privilege.

THE LABOUR MOVEMENT IN LEBANON

Power on hold
LEA BOU KHATER

The labour movement in Lebanon: Power on hold narrates the history of the Lebanese labour movement from the early twentieth century to today.

Bou Khater demonstrates that trade unionism in the country has largely been a failure, for reasons including state interference, tactical co-optation, and the strategic use of sectarianism by an oligarchic elite, together with the structural weakness of a service-based laissez-faire economy. Drawing on a vast body of Arabic-language primary sources and difficult-to-access archives, the book’s conclusions are significant not only for trade unionism, but also for new forms of workers’ organisations and social movements in Lebanon and beyond.

YOUTH JUSTICE

Towards a Contextualised Understanding of Policy-Making

STEPHEN CASE

Policy development and implementation has a pivotal role in the youth justice system, profoundly impacting professionals and the children they work with.

This imaginative book challenges limited explanations of policy-making as linear and government-dominated through original research into the practices, identities and relationships of a wide range of stakeholders working in multiple policy-making contexts in England and Wales.

The result is a detailed expert analysis of the contexts and mechanisms of youth justice policy-making. This book is key reading for researchers, professionals and students seeking effective understandings and responses to the long term social problem of youth offending.

It aims to discover more about the drivers, contexts, and uneven levels of violence through the case studies of Chalatenango and Sonsonate in El Salvador and Pereira and Tunja in Colombia.

Based on a multidisciplinary analytical framework, it explains why and how some peripheral cities have become the locus of violent orders, whereas others have managed to control violence.

BODILY FLUIDS, FLUID BODIES AND INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Feminist Technoscience,
Biopolitics and Security

JENN HOBBS

This book builds upon an interdisciplinary cadre of feminist scholarship, taking 'bodily fluid' as the analytical lens to investigate how governance practices oppress certain bodies for the sake of others.

Approaching three security settings from this starting point reveals new knowledge about these places and how security governance operates there. By looking at health and security governance through the plasma of paid Mexican/o donors in the US, the vomit of black Africans at the airport, and the semen of soldiers with genitourinary injuries, the book shows how security practices attempt to govern bodily fluids to affect an unequal distribution of life and death between bodies.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS IN CRISIS

Multidisciplinary, transnational, and comparative perspectives

EDITED BY SALVADOR
SANTINO F. REGILME JR.

This book rigorously investigates the contemporary state of children's rights and the multifaceted challenges facing children, uncovering the complexities at their core.

In 1989, the United Nations introduced the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC), ratified by 196 nations, promising a world where children's rights would reign supreme. In practice, however, realising these rights proves intricate and often precarious.

Over three decades since the CRC's inception, this book scrutinises the true efficacy of international commitments, shedding light on underexplored issues and revealing shortcomings in both discourse and actions.

Achievements

EDITED BY SVEN BOTHA, JO-
ANSIE VAN WYK

Africa's unique position as an international diplomatic actor has not always been given the attention it deserves. This volume bridges this gap by offering a fresh, comprehensive and realistic overview of African diplomacy.

The book examines African diplomatic practice. Chapters explore how different types of diplomacy have developed over time, including energy diplomacy, economic diplomacy and quiet diplomacy. Crucially, the book assesses how certain events have allowed Africa to use certain types of diplomacy to yield better outcomes for itself.

NATO AND THE RUSSIAN WAR IN UKRAINE

Strategic Integration and Military Interoperability

EDITED BY JANNE HAALAND
MATLARY, ROB JOHNSON

The 2014 Russian annexation of Crimea and war by proxy in eastern Donbass was a wake-up call, while China's creeping seizure and fortification of islands in the South China Sea, as well as its relentless acquisition of Western technologies, similarly alerted the Western leadership to a less benign strategic environment. But the real shift occurred in 2022.

China and Russia not only announced their 'unlimited friendship', but made clear their intention to reduce American hegemony by breaking up the NATO alliance and its Pacific equivalents. This volume is the first account of the challenges and solutions for so-called strategic integration in this coercive global situation.

WHAT DO CORPORATIONS WANT?

Communicative Capitalism, Corporate Purpose, and a New Theory of the Firm

TIMOTHY KUHN

Management and organisation studies have long argued for the need to reform corporate practices in the interest of social benefit, but their claims are usually dismissed as irrelevant when the targets are managers, workers or the capitalist system.

This innovative book offers a bold new theory of the firm as an alternative means of understanding authority and capitalism. Leading scholar Timothy Kuhn asks what if corporations can be viewed as entities with defined beliefs and goals, as agents capable of fostering positive societal change. As more and more, people want businesses to do good for society and the environment, not just make money, this book redefines what corporations are for and what they can be.

ANDREAS VESALIUS

Anatomy and the World of Books

SACHIKO KUSUKAWA

A revisionist biography of Andreas Vesalius — the father of modern anatomy — as deeply shaped by Renaissance culture.

In 1543 the young and ambitious physician Andreas Vesalius published one of the most famous books in the history of medicine, On the Fabric of the Human Body.

While we often think of dissection as destroying the body, Vesalius believed that it helped him understand how to construct the human body.

In this book, Sachiko Kusukawa shows how Vesalius's publication emerged from the interplay of Renaissance art, printing technology, and classical tradition. She challenges the conventional view of Vesalius as a proto-modern, anti-authoritarian father of anatomy through a more nuanced account of how Vesalius exploited cultural and technological developments.

OVER-EFFICIENCY IN THE LOWER CRIMINAL COURTS

Understanding a Key Problem and How to Fix it

SHAUN S. YATES

In our pursuit of efficiency in the lower criminal courts, have we lost sight of quality justice? Through the critical examination of original stenographic data, this book demonstrates how an English Magistrates' courthouse often pursued managerial efficiency to the detriment of social justice and procedural due process values.

Given that these courts process more than 95% of all criminal cases, this 'over-efficiency' problem has the capacity to cause significant social harm. Yates's work concludes by providing socio-legal and criminological readers with ways to fix this over-efficiency problem. This accessible work is of value to policy makers and post-graduate students alike.

BIRTH CONTROLLED

Selective reproduction and neoliberal eugenics in South Africa and India

EDITED BY AMRITA PANDE

This book analyses the world of selective reproduction by a critical analysis of three modes of controlling birth, namely contraception, reproductive violence and reo-genetic technologies.

All population control policies target and vilify women (Black women in particular), and coerce them into subjecting their bodies to state and medical surveillance; Birth Controlled argues that assisted reproductive technologies and reo-genetic technologies employ a similar and stratified burden of blame and responsibility based on gender, race, class and caste. The book provides a critical, interdisciplinary and cutting-edge dialogue around the interconnected issues that shape reproductive politics in an ostensibly 'post-population control' era.

NEITHER USE NOR ORNAMENT

A cultural biography of clutter and procrastination

TRACEY POTTS

Neither Use Nor Ornament is a book about personal productivity, narrated from the perspective of its obstacles: clutter and procrastination. It offers a challenge to the self-help promise of a clutter-free life, lived in a permanent state of efficiency and flow.

The book reveals how contemporary projections of the good, productive life rely on images of failure. Riffing on the aphorism 'less is more' — a dominant refrain in present day productivity advice — it tells stories about streamlining, efficiency and tidiness over a time period of around 100 years.

By focusing on the shadows of productivity advice, this book seeks to unravel the moral narratives that hold individuals to account for their inefficiencies and muddles.

HARIULF'S HISTORY OF ST RIQUIER

TRANSLATED BY KATHLEEN THOMPSON

A new and accessible translation of Hariulf's History of St Riquier, this book examines the history of a monastic community from the seventh to the eleventh century.

It covers the ascetic life of the founding saint and the development of the community under the Carolingians in the late eighth and ninth centuries. There were setbacks when the house was sacked by the Vikings and the founder's relics were stolen for political ends, but it recovered in the tenth and eleventh centuries and developed the links with both the Norman and English courts that enable Hariulf to make interesting observations about the Norman Conquest of England. Hariulf's description of the monastic site with its three churches and the liturgical arrangements practised there make his history an important source for monastic history.

HOPE AND DESPAIR

Israel's Future in the New Middle East

MICHAEL A. HOROWITZ

Days before his country signed a deal to normalise ties with Israel, the Emirati Ambassador to the US penned an article in Hebrew, directly addressing Israelis. Israel, he argued, faced a choice between engagement with the rest of the region, or isolation. His words struck a chord then, and will continue to ring true in the decades to come.

Michael A. Horowitz tells the unfolding story of this decision: of tension between the hope ushered in by the normalisation agreements, and the enduring despair both Israelis and Palestinians feel about the waning prospects of peace. Rather than examining the past, Horowitz looks to Israel's future — one marked by new opportunities, but also tremendous challenges, as the country tries to find its place in a region trying to find itself.

RETAIL AND COMMUNITY

Business, Charity and the End of Empire

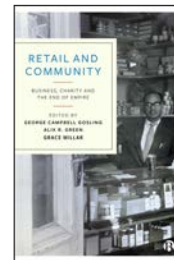

EDITED BY GEORGE CAMPBELL GOSLING, GRACE MILLAR, ALIX R. GREEN

This interdisciplinary volume explores how English commercial, co-operative and charity retailing were shaped by and in turn influenced their social and political environments, from the local and the global, between the late-nineteenth and early twenty-first centuries.

Historians, sociologists, archivists and heritage professionals engage with current debates on the rise of modern business and the decline of the high street, class and credit, professionalisation in the voluntary sector, migration and the end of empire.

This will be a key resource to better understand retail and community in an era defined by social change.

SEXUAL POLITICS IN REVOLUTIONARY ENGLAND

SAM FULLERTON

Sexual politics in revolutionary England* recounts a dramatic transformation in English sexual polemic that unfolded during the kingdom's mid-seventeenth-century civil wars.

In early Stuart England, explicit sexual language was largely confined to manuscript and oral forms by the combined regulatory pressures of ecclesiastical press licensing and powerful cultural notions of civility and decorum. During the early 1640s, however, graphic sex-talk exploded into polemical print for the first time in English history. Over the next two decades, sexual politics evolved into a vital component of public discourse, as contemporaries utilized sexual satire to reframe the English Revolution as a battle between licentious Stuart tyrants and their lecherous puritan enemies.

AT HOME WITH THE POOR

Consumer behaviour and material culture in England, c. 1650-1850

JOSEPH HARLEY

This book opens the doors to the homes of the forgotten poor and traces the goods they owned before, during and after the industrial revolution (c. 1650-1850).

Using a vast and diverse range of sources, it gets to the very heart of what it meant to be 'poor' by examining the homes of the impoverished and mapping how numerous household goods became more widespread. As the book argues, poverty did not necessarily equate to owning very little and living in squalor. In fact, its novel findings show that most of the poor strove to improve their domestic spheres and that their demand for goods was so great that it was a driving force of the industrial revolution.

BEYOND UKRAINE

Debating the Future of War

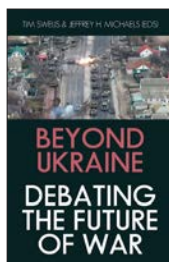

EDITED BY TIM SWEIJS,
JEFFREY H. MICHAELS

War in the 21st century will remain a chameleon that takes on different forms and guises.

This book offers the first comprehensive update and revision of ideas about the future of war since Russia's 2022 invasion of Ukraine. It argues that the war has fundamentally shifted our perspective on the nature and character of future war, but also cautions against marginalising many other parallel trends, types of war, and ways of waging them.

World-renowned international experts from the War Studies field consider the impact of the war in Ukraine on the broader social phenomenon of war: they analyse visions of future war; examine the impact of technological innovation on its conduct; assess our ability to anticipate its future; and consider lessons learned for leaders, soldiers, strategists, scholars and concerned citizens.

Tea on the terrace focuses instead on the hotels Egyptologists stayed in before going out to excavate, and after they returned, as major sites of discipline-building activities. Here they met friends and colleagues, drank tea, ate meals and talked with one another. Throughout their time together, they built the discipline of Egyptology in an exclusive space — European-run Egyptian hotels.

AT THE END OF PROPERTY

Patents, Plants and the Crisis of Propertization

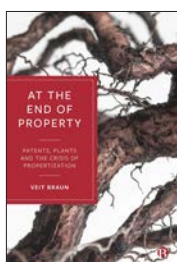

VEIT BRAUN

Recent decades have witnessed the creation of new types of property systems, ranging from data ownership to national control over genetic resources. This trend has significant implications for wealth distribution and our understanding of who can own what.

This book explores the idea of ownership in the realm of plant breeding, revealing how plants have been legally and materially transformed into property. It highlights the controversial aspects of turning seeds, plants and genes into property and how this endangers the viability of the seed industry.

Examining ownership not simply as a legal concept, but as a bundle of laws, practices and technologies, this is a valuable contribution that will interest scholars of various fields.

THE SCIENTIFIC LEGACY OF HAR GOBIND KHORANA

Total Synthesis and the Genetic Code

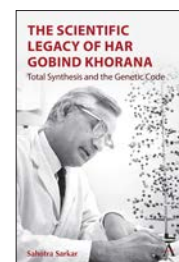

SAHOTRA SARKAR

This book is the only scientific biography of the Nobel Prize-winning Indian American chemist, Har Gobind Khorana.

It begins with the story of Khorana's origins in poverty in rural India and how he manages to emerge from that to be trained in chemistry in Britain and Switzerland before immigrating to Canada and the United States. Science was the dominant focus of Khorana's life, and his biography is treated chronologically in conjunction with his scientific career.

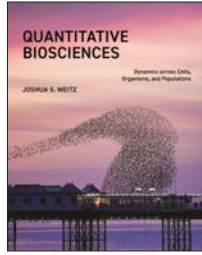

The book explains in detail Khorana's most important scientific achievements, his role in deciphering the genetic code (the reason for his Nobel Prize) and his seminal studies of how structure determines the function of biological macromolecules in membranes.

Quantitative Biosciences establishes the quantitative principles of how living systems work across scales, drawing on classic and modern discoveries to present a case study approach that links mechanisms, models and measurements.

Each case study is organised around a central question in the life sciences: Are mutations dependent on selection? How do cells respond to fluctuating signals in the environment? How do organisms move in flocks given local sensing? How does the size of an epidemic depend on its initial speed of spread? Each question provides the basis for introducing landmark advances in the life sciences while teaching students how to reason quantitatively about living systems given uncertainty.

IDEAS FOR THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE HISTORY OF MANKIND

JOHANN GOTTFRIED HERDER, TRANSLATED BY GREGORY MARTIN MOORE

Published in four volumes between 1784 and 1791, Herder's Ideas for the Philosophy of the History of Mankind is one of the most important works of the Enlightenment — a bold, original and encyclopedic synthesis of, and contribution to, the era's philosophical debates over nature, history, culture, and the very meaning of human experience.

This is the first new, unabridged English translation of the Ideas in more than two centuries. Gregory Martin Moore's lively, modern English text, extensive introduction, and commentary bring this neglected masterpiece back to life.

WITTGENSTEIN AND ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE, VOLUME II

Value and Governance

ALICE C. HELLIWELL, ALESSANDRO ROSSI, BRIAN BALL

This is the second of two edited collections, exploring Wittgensteinian themes in AI.

This collection brings together work on the relevance of Wittgenstein's philosophy to the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI). Over two volumes, our contributors cover a wide range of topics from different disciplinary approaches. In this volume, contributions are centred on two major themes in the philosophy of AI: questions of value and governance. Contributions include chapters on both ethics and aesthetics and AI, as well as questions of the governance of AI systems, including legal and policy issues.

WITTGENSTEIN AND ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE, VOLUME I

Mind and Language

ALICE C. HELLIWELL, ALESSANDRO ROSSI, BRIAN BALL

A significant and timely contribution to the question of what Wittgenstein's philosophy can offer to the ever-growing field of AI.

This collection brings together work on the relevance of Wittgenstein's philosophy to the field of Artificial Intelligence (AI). Over two volumes, our contributors cover a wide range of topics from different disciplinary approaches. In this volume, contributions are centred on two major themes in the philosophy of AI: questions of mind and language. Contributions include chapters on AI thought, intentionality, logic and language, as well as the relationship between Wittgenstein's thought and Turing's.

HOW NOT TO BE HUMAN

The Inhumanist Philosophy of Robinson Jeffers

MATTHEW CALARCO

Argues that the writings of twentieth-century poet Robinson Jeffers offer twenty-first-century readers a number of crucial insights concerning such questions as how not to be human.

Current debates in the environmental humanities, animal studies, and related fields increasingly revolve around this question: What to do with 'the human'? Is the human a category worth preserving? Should it be replaced with the post-human? Should marginalised and minoritarian groups advocate for a universal humanism? What is the relationship between humanism and anthropocentrism? This book argues that the writings of twentieth-century poet Robinson Jeffers offer twenty-first-century readers a number of crucial insights concerning such questions and timely advice about how not to be human.

CONFRONTING THE IRISH PAST

The 1912-1924 Decade in Light of the 1998 Good Friday Agreement

EDITED BY JAMES G. MURPHY

A book that contributes to building a culture of peace and tolerance that comes to terms with the dark side of Irish history.

The 1998 Belfast (Good Friday) Agreement established power-sharing arrangements between the two divided communities in Northern Ireland. The Agreement is not set in stone but is rather a hopeful yet uncertain project. Making it put down deep cultural roots requires some confrontation with and transformation of the history, and the socially constructed memories, of Ireland's decisive decade 1912-1923, which was violent and divisive.

CRITICAL MUSLIM 49

Scotland

EDITED BY ZIAUDDIN SARDAR

There is more to Scotland than the intensifying debate on independence. This is a rich land, with a rich culture and past that defy commonly held stereotypes of the Scottish people. But their nation also played a central role in the British Empire and has links to slavery. There are Muslims in far-flung places, and their influence on Scottish identity and culture is increasing.

In this issue, we explore the history and diversity of Scotland, relate the chronicles of Scotland's Muslims, get high on Scottish poetry, trace the influence of Scots on Muslim novelists, and unpack the politics of Scotland's minority language-speakers.

Critical Muslim is a quarterly publication of ideas and issues showcasing groundbreaking thinking on Islam and what it means to be a Muslim in a rapidly changing world.

PROVIDING PUBLIC SPACE IN A CONTEMPORARY METROPOLIS

Dilemmas and Lessons from London and Hong Kong
CLAUDIO DE MAGALHÃES,
LOUIE SIEH

Increasingly, public space provision and management are being transferred from the public sector to real estate developers, private sector organisations, voluntary groups and community bodies.

Contrasting the more historical, horizontal character of London with the intense street life of high-rise Hong Kong, this book tells the story of the two cities' relationships with non-traditional forms of public space governance.

ECOLOGIES OF CARE IN TIMES OF CLIMATE CHANGE

Water Security in the Global Context

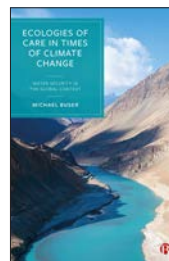

MICHAEL BUSER

This book investigates and analyses places in Europe, North America and Asia that are facing the immense challenges associated with climate change adaptation.

Presenting real-world cases in the contexts of coastal change, drinking water and the cryosphere, Michael Buser shows how the concept of care can be applied to water security and climate adaptation.

Exploring the everyday and often hidden ways in which water security is accomplished, the book demonstrates the pervasiveness and power of care to contribute to flourishing lives and communities in times of climate change.

THE SUN ALSO RISES IN PORTUGAL

Ambitions of Just Solar Energy Transitions

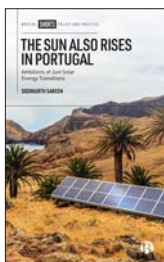

SIDDHARTH SAREEN

Portugal is among the best-placed European countries to take advantage of solar power, having achieved a five-fold increase in installed capacity during 2017-2023, despite financial constraints.

In 2023, its National Energy and Climate Plan set an ambitious target for a further eight-fold increase from 2.5 GW to 20.4 GW by 2030.

How can such fast-paced deployment secure sociospatial justice? What insights do political economic dynamics hold for future transitions? Drawing on long-term, multisited ethnographic fieldwork, this book is a one-stop resource for policymakers, practitioners, scholars and anyone interested in just solar energy transitions.

PORTRAIT AND PLACE

Photography in Senegal, 1840-1960

GIULIA PAOLETTI

A richly illustrated history of photography in one of the epicentres of African modernity.

When the daguerreotype first arrived in sub-Saharan Africa in the early nineteenth century, local kingdoms still held power in Senegal and the French presence was limited to trading outposts along the coast. The pioneers of photography in Senegal worked within, across, and beyond the borders of colonial empire, expanding the medium's possibilities and contributing to a global visual language.

Portrait and Place explores these unique encounters, providing an in-depth and nuanced look at the images made at the intersection of Black Atlantic, Islamic, and African cultures.
