THE LIVES OF OCTOPUSES AND THEIR RELATIVES

A Natural History of Cephalopods

DANNA STAAF

- An engaging and beautifully illustrated introduction to some of the world’s most interesting and charismatic marine creatures

Dive deep into the fascinating world of cephalopods — octopuses, squid, cuttlefish, and the mysterious nautilus — to discover the astonishing diversity of this unique group of intelligent invertebrates and their many roles in the marine ecosystem. Organised by marine habitat, this book features an extraordinary range of these clever and colourful creatures from around the world and explores their life cycles, behaviour, adaptations, ecology, links to humans, and much more. With stunning photographs and illustrations as well as profiles of selected species, The Lives of Octopuses and Their Relatives is a comprehensive, authoritative, and inviting introduction to the natural history of these charismatic creatures.

THE LIVES OF SHARKS
 A Natural History of Shark Life
 DANIEL C. ABEL, R. DEAN GRUBBS

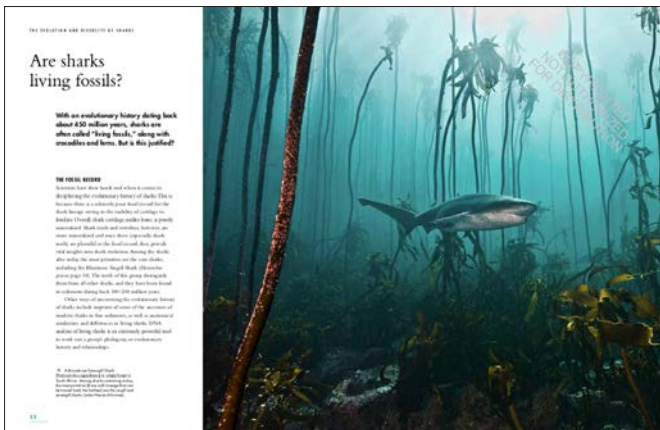

- A richly illustrated and comprehensive introduction to the world's sharks

Sharks are the top predators in many marine ecosystems. But tales of the killer instincts and fearsomely sharp senses of these hunters can obscure their full life histories. In fact, sharks are characterful, exhibit surprisingly complex behaviours, and lead secretive lives full of interest in every type of marine habitat. The Lives of Sharks is a fascinating and beautifully illustrated guide to these iconic marine creatures from two world-renowned experts. This book explores shark physiology, anatomy, behaviour, ecology, and evolution, as well as conservation and the impact of human activity on shark populations. With stunning photographs and illustrations, as well as profiles of selected species, this is a comprehensive, authoritative, and inviting introduction to global shark life today.

THE BEAUTY OF THE FLOWER

The Art and Science of Botanical Illustration

STEPHEN A. HARRIS

- Blooming with rare archival images, this is the story of scientific botanical illustrations over nearly seven hundred years

In a world flooded with images designed to create memories, validate perceptions and influence others, botanical illustration is about creating technically accurate depictions of plants. Reproductions of centuries-old botanical illustrations frequently adorn greetings cards, pottery and advertising, to promote heritage or generate income, yet their art is scientific: its purpose is to record, display and transmit scientific data. The Beauty of the Flower shows us how scientific botanical illustrations are collaborations among artists, scientists and publishers. It explores the evolution and interchanges of these illustrations since the mid-fifteenth century, the ways in which they have been used to communicate scientific ideas about plants and how views of botanical imagery change. Featuring unique images rarely seen outside of specialist literature this book reveals the fascinating stories behind these remarkable illustrations.

INSPIRED BY LIGHT AND LAND

Designers and Makers in Western Australia, 1970 to the 21st Century
DOROTHY ERICKSON

- An informative and attractively illustrated account of the works of designers and craftspeople that have been an integral part of Western Australia’s history through to the modern era
- Written, illustrated and attractively designed to appeal to both the general reader and readers with a special interest in art, jewellery, craftwork and social heritage

Western Australia has a history of craft culture drawn from the foundations of its unique social and environmental heritage. Continuing the story of design and the crafts first articulated in Inspired by Light and Land: Designers and Makers in Western Australia 1829–1969, this tome provides a broad overview of active makers into the 21st century.

Featuring hundreds of craftspeople whose talent, confidence and ‘west coast’ joie de vivre continues to sculpt the story of the state, this book tells of the expansive world of the mineral boom followed by recession and crisis through the 1970s and 1980s, and then the more pensive and austere lead up to the new millennium on into the digital age.

Works of precious stone, wood, textile and clay, woven, stitched, fired and forged are detailed throughout Inspired by Light and Land: Designers and Makers in Western Australia 1970 to the 21st Century. A select fifty designer-makers who made their mark on the national or international stage by the turn of the century are profiled in their disciplines defining a rich history of craftwork in Western Australia.

This is a celebration of the designer-makers whose work is bathed in the light or of the land that is Western Australia.

WHEN ANIMALS DREAM

The Hidden World of Animal Consciousness

DAVID M. PEÑA-GUZMÁN

- Now in paperback!
- A spellbinding look at the philosophical and moral implications of animal dreaming

Are humans the only dreamers on Earth? What goes on in the minds of animals when they sleep? When Animals Dream brings together behavioural and neuroscientific research on animal sleep with philosophical theories of dreaming. It shows that dreams provide an invaluable window into the cognitive and emotional lives of nonhuman animals, giving us access to a seemingly inaccessible realm of animal experience.

David Peña-Guzmán uncovers evidence of animal dreaming throughout the scientific literature, suggesting that many animals run ‘reality simulations’ while asleep, with a dream-ego moving through a dynamic and coherent dreamscape. He builds a convincing case for animals as conscious beings and examines the thorny scientific, philosophical and ethical questions it raises. Once we accept that animals dream, we incur a host of moral obligations and have no choice but to rethink our views about who animals are and the interior lives they lead.

A mesmerising journey into the otherworldly domain of nonhuman consciousness, When Animals Dream carries profound implications for contemporary debates about animal cognition, animal ethics and animal rights, challenging us to regard animals as beings who matter, and for whom things matter.

‘When Animals Dream ranges from fascinating to thrilling. A very accessible, penetrating, thought-provoking book that makes us see other-than-human minds in a whole new light.’ — Carl Safina, author of Beyond Words: What Animals Think and Feel and Becoming Wild

‘Octopuses dream. Rats suffer nightmares. Chimps trained in sign language ‘talk’ in their sleep. This revelatory book shows us that animals’ minds, like ours, are gloriously nimble, vivid, and complex, even during sleep. This is thrilling, essential reading for all of us seeking to expand our understanding of the wonder of consciousness.’ — Sy Montgomery, New York Times bestselling author of The Soul of an Octopus: A Surprising Exploration into the Wonder of Consciousness

IAN BURN

Collected Writings 1966-1993

ARTIST IAN BURN, CONTRIBUTIONS BY ART & LANGUAGE, ADRIAN PIPER, MEL RAMSDEN, ALLAN SEKULA, PAUL WOOD, EDITED BY ANN STEPHEN

- Largest collection of Ian Burn’s writing to date
- Previously unpublished archival images and documentation of Ian Burn at work
- Contributions from Art & Language, Adrian Piper, Paul Wood, Allan Sekula and Mel Ramsden
- First publication of Ian Burn Memorial Lectures, 1996–2000

‘A sense of art history is part of the critical basis on which artists construct ‘a future’ of art. But the question is, which sense of art history will be shaping that future?’

Art history has always been far too important to be left up to art historians.’ — Ian Burn, 1982

Ian Burn has been described as many things: an activist, a trade-unionist, a journalist, an art critic, a curator and an art historian — or, as he once described himself in a moment of self-deprecating alienation, ‘an ex-conceptual artist’.

Edited by Burn’s friend, frequent collaborator and eminent art historian, Dr Ann Stephen, this volume brings together 49 pieces of Burn’s own agile and expansive writings alongside a vast collection of his artworks.

THE POINT OF THE NEEDLE

Why Sewing Matters

BARBARA BURMAN

- From the pleasures of mending to the problems of fast fashion, an intimate look at the creativity, community, and deep meaning sewed into every stitch

Tens of millions of people sew for necessity or pleasure every day, yet the craft is surprisingly under-appreciated. The Point of the Needle redresses the balance: this is a book that argues for sewing’s place in our lives. It celebrates not only sewing’s recent resurgence but sewists’ creativity, well-being and community.

Barbara Burman chronicles new voices of people who sew today, by hand or machine, to explore what they sew, what motivates them, what they value and why they mend things, revealing insights into sewing’s more intimate stories. In our age of superfast fashion with its environmental and social injustices, this eloquent book makes a passionate case for identity, diversity, resilience and memory — what people create for themselves as they stitch and make.

HOW TO CARE ABOUT ANIMALS

An Ancient Guide to Creatures Great and Small
TRANSLATED WITH COMMENTARY BY M. D. USHER

- An entertaining and enlightening anthology of classical Greek and Roman writings on animals — and our vital relationships with them

How to Care about Animals is a fascinating menagerie of passages from classical literature about animals and the lives we share with them. Drawing on ancient writers from Aesop to Ovid, classicist and farmer M. D. Usher has gathered a healthy litter of selections that reveal some of the ways Greeks and Romans thought about everything from lions, bears, and wolves to birds, octopuses, and snails — and that might inspire us to rethink our own relationships with our fellow creatures. Presented in lively new translations, with the original texts on facing pages, these pieces are filled with surprises — anticipating but also offering new perspectives on many of our current feelings and ideas about animals.

Here, Porphyry makes a compelling argument for vegetarianism and asserts that the just treatment of animals makes us better people; Pliny the Elder praises the virtuosity of songbirds and the virtuousness of elephants; Plutarch has one of Circe’s pigs from the Odyssey make a serio-comic case for the dignity of the beasts of the field; Aristotle puts the study of animals on par with anthropology; we read timeless Aesopian fables, including ‘The Hen That Laid the Golden Egg’ and ‘The Fox and the Grapes’; and there is much, much more.

THE GOOD-ENOUGH LIFE

AVRAM ALPERT

- Now in paperback!
- How an acceptance of our limitations can lead to a more fulfilling life and a more harmonious society

We live in a world oriented toward greatness, one in which we feel compelled to be among the wealthiest, most powerful, and most famous. This book explains why no one truly benefits from this competitive social order, and reveals how another way of life is possible — a good-enough life for all.

Avram Alpert shows how our obsession with greatness results in stress and anxiety, damage to our relationships, widespread political and economic inequality, and destruction of the natural world. He describes how to move beyond greatness to create a society in which everyone flourishes. By competing less with each other, each of us can find renewed meaning and purpose, have our material and emotional needs met, and begin to lead more leisurely lives. Alpert makes no false utopian promises, however. Life can never be more than good enough because there will always be accidents and tragedies beyond our control, which is why we must stop dividing the world into winners and losers and ensure that there is a fair share of decency and sufficiency to go around.

Visionary and provocative, The Good-Enough Life demonstrates how we can work together to cultivate a good-enough life for all instead of tearing ourselves apart in a race to the top of the social pyramid.

‘The knowledge on offer here is as entertaining as it is edifying. Readers won’t look at bees the same way again.’ — Publishers Weekly

THE MIND OF A BEE
LARS CHITTKA

- Now in paperback!
- A rich and surprising exploration of the intelligence of bees

Most of us are aware of the hive mind — the power of bees as an amazing collective. But do we know how uniquely intelligent bees are as individuals? In The Mind of a Bee, Lars Chittka draws from decades of research, including his own pioneering work, to argue that bees have remarkable cognitive abilities. He shows that they are profoundly smart, have distinct personalities, can recognise flowers and human faces, exhibit basic emotions, count, use simple tools, solve problems, and learn by observing others. They may even possess consciousness.

Taking readers deep into the sensory world of bees, Chittka illustrates how bee brains are unparalleled in the animal kingdom in terms of how much sophisticated material is packed into their tiny nervous systems. He looks at their innate behaviours and the ways their evolution as foragers may have contributed to their keen spatial memory. Chittka also examines the psychological differences between bees and the ethical dilemmas that arise in conservation and laboratory settings because bees feel and think. Throughout, he touches on the fascinating history behind the study of bee behaviour.

Exploring an insect whose sensory experiences rival those of humans, The Mind of a Bee reveals the singular abilities of some of the world’s most incredible creatures.

‘In a world full of moral clichés, forgiveness is a candidate for king... Myisha Cherry explodes these ideas and brilliantly explores how we should change our thinking about forgiveness.’ — Jason Reynolds, #1 New York Times bestselling co-author of Stamped: Racism, Antiracism, and You

FAILURES OF FORGIVENESS
What We Get Wrong and How to Do Better
MYISHA CHERRY

- Philosopher Myisha Cherry teaches us the right ways to deal with wrongdoing in our lives and the world

Sages from Cicero to Oprah have told us that forgiveness requires us to let go of negative emotions and that it has a unique power to heal our wounds. In Failures of Forgiveness, Myisha Cherry argues that these beliefs couldn’t be more wrong — and that the ways we think about and use forgiveness, personally and as a society, can often do more harm than good. She presents a new and healthier understanding of forgiveness — one that will give us a better chance to recover from wrongdoing and move toward ‘radical repair’.

Cherry began exploring forgiveness after some relatives of the victims of the mass shooting at Emanuel A.M.E. Church in Charleston, South Carolina, forgave what seemed unforgivable. She was troubled that many observers appeared to be more inspired by these acts of forgiveness than they were motivated to confront the racial hatred that led to the killings. That is a big mistake, Cherry argues. Forgiveness isn’t magic. We can forgive and still be angry, there can be good reasons not to forgive, and forgiving a wrong without tackling its roots solves nothing. By showing us how to do forgiveness better, Failures of Forgiveness promises to transform how we deal with wrongdoing in our lives, opening a new path to true healing and reconciliation.

FREE AGENTS

How Evolution Gave Us Free Will
 KEVIN J. MITCHELL

- An evolutionary case for the existence of free will

Scientists are learning more and more about how brain activity controls behaviour and how neural circuits weigh alternatives and initiate actions. As we probe ever deeper into the mechanics of decision making, many conclude that agency — or free will — is an illusion. In Free Agents, leading neuroscientist Kevin Mitchell presents a wealth of evidence to the contrary, arguing that we are not mere machines responding to physical forces but agents acting with purpose.

Traversing billions of years of evolution, Mitchell tells the remarkable story of how living beings capable of choice arose from lifeless matter. He explains how the emergence of nervous systems provided a means to learn about the world, granting sentient animals the capacity to model, predict, and simulate. Mitchell reveals how these faculties reached their peak in humans with our abilities to imagine and to be introspective, to reason in the moment, and to shape our possible futures through the exercise of our individual agency. Mitchell's argument has important implications — for how we understand decision making, for how our individual agency can be enhanced or infringed, for how we think about collective agency in the face of global crises, and for how we consider the limitations and future of artificial intelligence.

THE RETURN OF INFLATION

Money and Capital in the 21st Century

PAUL MATTICK

- Both a history and a contemporary analysis, an illuminating investigation of the defining economic concern of our time

The last year has seen the return of inflation as a preoccupation of political decision-makers, economists and the general public. After two decades of wondering why inflation was so low, despite vast economic stimulus, economists were surprised by the recent surge of price increases. Despite disagreement about what exactly is happening in the economy, there is unanimity that growth must be slowed in order to control inflation. To focus on inflation’s return, Paul Mattick looks at past and present, placing current events in the context of capitalism’s history. Exploring in novel terms the nature of money itself, he provides a concise, jargon-free understanding of recent inflation, and official efforts to control it, illuminating the state of our contemporary economy.

‘A reader looking for a clear, well-researched account of the history and theories of inflation and the workings of monetary institutions from a critical, left-wing perspective will not find a better source than Mattick’s The Return of Inflation.’ — Duncan K. ECONOMICS IN AMERICA

An Immigrant Economist Explores the Land of Inequality

ANGUS DEATON

- Available now!
- From the Nobel Prize-winning economist and New York Times bestselling co-author of Deaths of Despair and the Future of Capitalism, candid reflections on the economist’s craft

When economist Angus Deaton immigrated to the United States from Britain in the early 1980s, he was awed by America’s strengths and shocked by the extraordinary gaps he witnessed between people. Economics in America explains in clear terms how the field of economics addresses the most pressing issues of our time — from poverty, retirement, and the minimum wage to the ravages of the nation’s uniquely disastrous health care system — and narrates Deaton’s account of his experiences as a naturalised US citizen and academic economist.

Deaton is witty and pulls no punches. In this incisive, candid, and funny book, he describes the everyday lives of working economists, recounting the triumphs as well as the disasters, and tells the inside story of the Nobel Prize in economics and the journey that led him to Stockholm to receive one. He discusses the ongoing tensions between economics and politics, and reflects on whether economists bear at least some responsibility for the growing despair and rising populism in America.

ENERGY RISING

The Neuroscience of Leading with Emotional Power

JULIA DIGANGI

- Provides a clear, actionable framework for learning how to transform your energy based on neuroscience
- Includes exercises to help readers apply learning to their own contexts
- Translates complex science into easy-to-understand and -use concepts for leaders who want to improve their work and their teams
- Inspires through relatable real-world examples of people who've used and learned the 'energy codes' in the book

Your success in life — at work and at home — rises when you harness the energy that powers your brain. A neuropsychologist explains how.

You may feel as if you don't control your emotional energy, that it's an inevitable consequence of the world around you and the forces bearing down on you. But that's not the case. To reach your full potential, you can learn to recognise and harness the energy in your brain. Leading neuropsychologist Julia DiGangi will teach you how through eight 'codes.' Some of the codes will surprise you. All will fortify you. You will learn why these codes work and how to apply them to your own challenges through exercises and reflections.

Get ready to feel your energy rising.

GOOD CHARTS, UPDATED AND EXPANDED

The HBR Guide to Making Smarter, More Persuasive Data Visualizations

SCOTT BERINATO

- The ultimate guide to data visualisation and information design for business
- Framework for 'thinking visually'
- Step-by-step guide for getting from data to sketch to final product
- Hundreds of visual and narrative examples of dataviz, the good, the bad & the ugly

Making good charts is a must-have skill for managers today. The vast amount of data that drives business isn't useful if you can't communicate the valuable ideas contained in that data — the threats, the opportunities, the hidden trends, the future possibilities.

But many think that data visualisation is too difficult — a specialist skill that's either the province of data scientists and complex software packages or the domain of professional designers and their visual creativity.

Not so. Anyone can learn to produce quality 'dataviz' and, more broadly, clear and effective information design. Good Charts will show you how to do it.

In this updated and expanded edition, Good Charts shows how anyone who invests a little time getting better at visual communication can create an outsized impact — both in their career and in their organisation.

ACT LIKE A LEADER, THINK LIKE A LEADER

Updated Edition
 HERMINIA IBARRA

- A new edition of the bestseller that has helped aspiring leaders worldwide advance their careers and step up to larger leadership roles
- Reveals the three critical shifts — and associated new practices and habits — needed to make a successful leadership transition
- Turns conventional leadership advice on its head: Ibarra argues that you have to change from the 'outside-in not the inside-out'
- Shows how to practice and strengthen a new leadership mindset, with specific actions designed to change your habits and patterns of thought

You aspire to lead with greater impact. The problem is you're busy executing on today's demands. You know you have to carve out time from your 'day job' to build your leadership skills, but it's easy to let immediate problems and old mindsets get in the way.

Herminia Ibarra — one of the world's foremost experts on leadership — shows how individuals at all levels can step up to leadership by making small but crucial changes in their jobs, their networks, and themselves.

Updated with new examples and self-assessments, this book gives you the tools to start acting like a leader and advancing your career to the next level.

WHY MEN?

A Human History of Violence and Inequality
NANCY LINDISFARNE, JONATHAN NEALE

- A fun, popular science book written by a married male and female couple — American anthropologists based in London
- In essence, this is a new understanding of sexism and patriarchy
- They ask if war & inequality are inevitable, because evolution made men competitive and dominant? And give a resounding ‘no’ with this entertaining yet powerful new history of ‘true’ human nature

Are war and inequality inevitable, because evolution made men competitive and dominant? Think again with this entertaining yet powerful new history of ‘true’ human nature.

How did humans, a species that evolved to be cooperative and egalitarian, develop societies of enforced inequality? Why did our ancestors create patriarchal power and warfare? Did it have to be this way?

Elites have always called hierarchy and violence unavoidable facts of human nature. Evolution, they claim, has caused men to fight, and people — starting with men and women — to have separate, unequal roles. But that is bad science.

Why Men? tells a smarter story of humanity, from early behaviours to contemporary cultures.

THE NIRVANA EXPRESS

How the Search for Enlightenment Went West
MICK BROWN

- An eccentric history of the West’s evolving love affair with Indian religion
- From Victorian exhibitions to 20th c. counterculture, this is the captivating story of Western interactions with Indian faith and spirituality
- Includes high profile case studies such as the Beatles, Somerset Maugham, Allen Ginsberg and Timothy Leary

The captivating story of the West’s love affair with Indian spirituality — from the orientalism of the British Empire to modern counterculture.

In 1897, an Indian yogi exhibited himself at London’s Westminster Aquarium, demonstrating yoga positions to a bemused audience. Four years earlier, Hindu philosopher Swami Vivekananda spoke at the first World Parliament of Religions in Chicago, where Annie Besant extolled the ‘exquisite beauty’ of his spiritual message.

The Victorians were fascinated by, yet suspicious of, Indian religious beliefs and practices. But within two generations, legions of young Westerners were following the ‘hippie trail’ to the subcontinent, the Beatles meditating at the feet of Maharishi Mahesh Yogi. Journalist Mick Brown’s vivid account charts this eccentric history of Western obsessions with Indian faith, through a curious cast of scholars, seekers, charlatans and saints.

‘Empires cannot be properly understood without Barfield’s illuminating understanding of their “shadow”... He provides us with an analytical tool of great power.’ — James C. Scott, Yale University

SHADOW EMPIRES

An Alternative Imperial History
THOMAS J. BARFIELD

- An original study of empire creation and its consequences, from ancient through early modern times

The world’s first great empires established by the ancient Persians, Chinese, and Romans are well known, but not the empires that emerged on their margins in response to them over the course of 2,500 years. These counterempires or shadow empires, which changed the course of history, include the imperial nomad confederacies that arose in Mongolia and extorted resources from China rather than attempting to conquer it, as well as maritime empires such as ancient Athens that controlled trade without seeking territorial hegemony. In Shadow Empires, Thomas Barfield identifies seven kinds of counterempire and explores their rise, politics, economics, and longevity.

What all these counterempires had in common was their interactions with existing empires that created the conditions for their development. When highly successful, these counterempires left the shadows to become the world’s largest empires — for example, those of the medieval Muslim Arabs and of the Mongol heirs of Chinggis Khan.

Looking afresh at the histories of important types of empires that are often ignored, Shadow Empires provides an original account of empire formation from the ancient world to the early modern period.

AT THE EDGE OF MYSTERIES

The Discovery of the Immune System
SHANTHA PERERA

- October release!
- The journey of the pioneers of immunology from Smallpox to COVID-19

In December 2019 a new virus emerged, one that caused a global pandemic. Millions were infected. In the recesses of their fragile bodies a battle raged: between the immune system and the virus. But what is the immune system? What are its components? How do they work?

One way to understand this system, arguably the most complicated in human physiology, is by walking in the footsteps of history, one observation and experiment at a time — beginning with the first written record of the concept of immunity in 430 BCE and travelling through the ensuing centuries, which gave the world vaccines, organ transplantation, novel therapies for cancer and now the understanding and tools to tackle the pandemic virus.

An entertaining and accessible work of popular science, At the Edge of Mysteries introduces the reader to a compelling cast of characters, from Edward Jenner and Louis Pasteur to the Nobel laureates of the modern day. This book glimpses into their lives and times — seeking clues to their genius and celebrating their yearning for discovery — and asks the question of what can be learned from the past in the age of global pandemics.

STONES

A Material and Cultural History
CALLY OLDERSHAW

- The story of our deep and multifaceted connections to geological matter — the very bedrock of our lives

From small beach pebbles to huge megaliths, stones have been revered, collected, enhanced, sculpted or engraved for practical and artistic purposes throughout the ages. They have been used to delineate boundaries and to build homes and shelters, and utilised for cooking, games and competitions. This surprising and fascinating compendium of stone facts, myths and stories reveals the impact and importance of stones in our history and culture. Cally Oldershaw introduces the science in an accessible way and covers the aesthetic appeal of stones, their practical uses and metaphysical properties. With an eclectic mix of examples from the Stone Age to the present, Stones engagingly excavates the story of this essential matter.

DINNER IN ROME

A History of the World in One Meal
ANDREAS VIESTAD

- Now in paperback!
- With a celebrated food writer as host, a delectable history of Roman cuisine and the world — served one dish at a time

‘There is more history in a bowl of pasta than in the Colosseum’, writes Andreas Viestad in Dinner in Rome. From the table of a classic Roman restaurant, Viestad takes us on a fascinating culinary exploration of The Eternal City, and global civilisation. Food, he argues, is history’s secret driving force. Viestad finds deeper meanings in his meal: From the bread that begins the dinner he traces the origins of wheat and its role in Rome’s rise as well as its downfall. From his fried artichoke antipasto he explains olive oil’s part in the religious conflict of 16th-century Europe. From his sorbet dessert he recounts how lemons featured in the history of the Mafia in the 19th century, and how the hunger for sugar fuelled the slave trade. Viestad’s dinner may be local, but his story is universal. His ‘culinary archaeology’ is an entertaining, flavourful journey across the dinner table and time. You’ll never look at spaghetti carbonara the same way again.

THE APHORISMS OF FRANZ KAFKA
 FRANZ KAFKA, EDITED BY REINER STACH,
 TRANSLATED BY SHELLEY FRISCH

- Now in paperback!
- A splendid new translation of an extraordinary work of modern literature — featuring facing-page commentary by Kafka’s acclaimed biographer

In 1917 and 1918, Franz Kafka wrote a set of more than 100 aphorisms, known as the Zürau aphorisms, after the Bohemian village in which he composed them. Among the most mysterious of Kafka’s writings, they explore philosophical questions about truth, good and evil, and the spiritual and sensory world. This is the first annotated, bilingual volume of these extraordinary writings, which provide great insight into Kafka’s mind. Edited, introduced, and with commentaries by preeminent Kafka biographer and authority Reiner Stach, and freshly translated by Shelley Frisch, this beautiful volume presents each aphorism on its own page in English and the original German, with accessible and enlightening notes on facing pages.

The most complex of Kafka’s writings, the aphorisms merge literary and analytical thinking and are radical in their ideas, original in their images and metaphors, and exceptionally condensed in their language. Offering up Kafka’s characteristically unsettling charms, the aphorisms at times put readers in unfamiliar, even inhospitable territory, which can then turn luminous.

CONVERSATIONS WITH BIRDS
 PRIYANKA KUMAR

- Now in paperback!
- Hardcover edition has sold over 7K copies across the marketplace and was highly lauded by the New York Times, Apple, and Audubon and it received starred review in Publishers Weekly and Kirkus
- Packaged for holiday and gift sales: gold foil on the cover and two-colour illustrations of birds by John James Audubon in the interior

‘Birds are my almanac. They tune me into the seasons, and into myself.’

So begins this lively collection of essays by acclaimed filmmaker and novelist Priyanka Kumar. Growing up at the feet of the Himalayas in northern India, Kumar took for granted her immersion in a lush natural world. After moving to North America as a teenager, she found herself increasingly distanced from more than human life, and discouraged by the civilization she saw contributing to its destruction. It was only in her twenties, living in Los Angeles and working on films, that she began to rediscover her place in the landscape — and in the cosmos — by way of watching birds.

Tracing her movements across the American West, this stirring collection of essays brings the avian world richly to life. Kumar’s perspective is not that of a list keeper, counting and cataloguing species, for Kumar, birds ‘become a portal to a more vivid, enchanted world.’

TAYLOR SWIFT: IN HER OWN WORDS

In Her Own Words

HELENA HUNT

- Backlist highlight!
- A collection of more than 300 quotes from Taylor Swift, pop culture icon and one of the bestselling musicians of all time.
- Few other books detail Swift's own words and perspective on such a wide variety of subjects

Get inside the head of one of the most influential musicians of our time, a pop music phenomenon turned titan of industry and cultural icon: Taylor Swift.

This collection of quotes has been carefully curated from Swift's numerous public statements — interviews, op-eds, social media posts, and more. It's a comprehensive picture of her meteoric rise to the top, her ever-savvy business sense, and her increasingly vocalised perspective on the music world and beyond.

Swift's catchy, chart-topping songs have propelled her to become one of the bestselling musicians of all time. But in the 15 years she's been making music, she has also amassed enough power to buck the norms of an industry notorious for controlling the images of its often very young female artists.

Swift's achievements have earned her spots on both Forbes's Most Powerful Women and Time's 100 Most Influential People lists. Now, for the first time, you can find her most inspirational, thought-provoking quotes in one place.

THE DEATH OF CONSENSUS

100 Years of British Political Nightmares

PHIL TINLINE

- Now in paperback!
- From the Great Depression to the pandemic, a new history of British politics, revealing UK democracy's ritual building and breaking of shared national outlooks

The Times 'Politics Book of the Year 2022'

Over Britain's first century of mass democracy, politics has lurched from crisis to crisis. How does this history of political agony illuminate our current age of upheaval?

To find out, journalist Phil Tinline takes us back to two past eras when the ruling consensus broke down, and the future filled with ominous possibilities — until, finally, a new settlement was born. The Death of Consensus will make you see British democracy differently.

PLASTICS: JUST A LOAD OF RUBBISH?

Re-evaluating Plastic and Its Role in Saving the Environment

ALICIA CHRYSOSTOMOU

- Could it be that our push for materials that are anything but plastic can actually cause more harm to the planet. Do we in fact need a paradigm shift in our outlook?
- Why plastic clothes pegs tend to snap when left outdoors, why some plastics yellow in time and what paracetamol, tarmac and Bakelite have in common

A decade to save the planet. That's the current call to arms. Targets are set, governments vow to do their bit and on a societal level we are encouraged to do ours by choosing to forego all things plastic. The question is whether this is the right decision or are we inadvertently at risk of doing more harm than good? Are there other factors in play needing equal consideration?

The book will follow the story of plastic, and to an extent rubber (known collectively as polymers), and all with an eye to the overarching theme of the environment.

- An insider's look: Prior to becoming a very popular professor at Harvard Law School, Coates was a partner at a major NYC law firm, so he has first-hand experience with the world of deals and finance
- Important new argument: This is the first book to explain how corporate America has been transformed by two institutions and their astonishingly high level of control: index funds and private equity

A 'problem of twelve' arises when a small number of institutions acquire the means to exert outsized influence over the politics and economy of a nation.

The Big Four index funds of Vanguard, State Street, Fidelity, and BlackRock control more than twenty percent of the votes of S&P 500 companies — a concentration of power that's unprecedented in America.

THE CIVIC BARGAIN

How Democracy Survives

BROOK MANVILLE, JOSIAH OBER

- A powerful case for democracy and how it can adapt and survive — if we want it to

Is democracy in trouble, perhaps even dying? Pundits say so, and polls show that most Americans believe that their country's system of governance is being 'tested' or is 'under attack'. But is the future of democracy necessarily so dire? In The Civic Bargain, Brook Manville and Josiah Ober push back against the prevailing pessimism about the fate of democracy around the world. Instead of an epitaph for democracy, they offer a guide for democratic renewal, calling on citizens to recommit to a 'civic bargain' with one another to guarantee civic rights of freedom, equality, and dignity. That bargain also requires them to fulfil the duties of democratic citizenship: governing themselves with no 'boss' except one another, embracing compromise, treating each other as civic friends, and investing in civic education for each rising generation.

SHAKE IT UP, BABY

The Rise of Beatlemania and the Mayhem of 1963

KEN MCNAB

- Ken McNab is recognised as one of the UK's foremost authorities on The Beatles
- This new book is a month-by-month account of the Beatles' transformation in 1963 through the memories of those who were there
- Shake It Up, Baby* is a companion volume to And in the End, which has sold over 12.5k copies and is currently being made into a documentary

When BEATLEMANIA seized the nation: Relive the Mayhem of 1963

Ken McNab tells the story through gripping, exclusive eye-witness accounts from those who were there: the Beatlemaniacs, the journalists, broadcasters and TV producers who were scrambling to make sense of it all, and the other bands who could only watch in awe as The Beatles went from bottom of the bill to headline act to biggest band on the planet.

WITCH HUNT

A Traveler's Journey into the Power and Persecution of the Witch

KRISTEN J. SOLLÉE

- This paperback edition includes a new afterword by the author and an updated travel resources section

Travelling through cities and sites across Italy, France, Germany, Ireland, the United Kingdom, and the United States, Kristen J. Sollée explores the places and people significant to the early modern legacy of the witch.

Between the 15th and 17th centuries, a confluence of political, economic, and religious factors ignited a wildfire of witch hysteria in Europe and, later, in parts of America. At the heart of these witch hunts were often dangerous misconceptions about femininity and female sexuality, and women were disproportionately punished as a result. By infusing an adventurous first-person narrative with extensive research and moments of imaginative historical fiction, Sollée (author of Witches, Sluts, Feminists) makes an often-overlooked period of history come alive.

RADICALS AND ROGUES

The Women Who Made New York Modern

LOTTIE WHALEN

- From artists to activists, an explosive and eye-opening new history of the women who trail-blazed modern New York

This is the story of a group of women whose experiments in art and life set the tone for the rise of New York as the twentieth century's capital of modern culture. Across the 1910s and '20s, through provocative creative acts, shocking fashion, political activism and dynamic social networks, these women reimagined modern life and fought for the chance to realise their visions. Taking the reader on a journey through the city's salons and bohemian hangouts, Radicals and Rogues celebrates the tastemakers, collectors, curators, artists and poets at the forefront of the early avant-garde scene. Focusing on the women trailblazers at the centre of artistic innovation, Lottie Whalen offers a lively new history of remarkable women in early twentieth-century New York City.

NATURE'S WILD IDEAS

How the Natural World is Inspiring Scientific Innovation

KRISTY HAMILTON

- Now in paperback!
- A lively and endlessly fascinating deep-dive into nature and the many groundbreaking human inventions inspired by the wild
- A strong environmental message about what we stand to lose when we destroy the natural world around us

When astronomers wanted a telescope that could capture X-rays from celestial bodies, they looked to the lobster. When doctors wanted a medication that could stabilise Type II diabetic patients, they found their muse in a lizard. When scientists wanted to drastically reduce emissions in cement manufacturing, they observed how corals construct their skeletons in the sea. This is biomimicry in action: taking inspiration from nature to tackle human challenges.

THE QUICKENING

Creation and Community at the Ends of the Earth

ELIZABETH RUSH

- An astonishing, vital book about Antarctica, climate change, and motherhood from the author of Rising, finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in General Nonfiction

In 2019, fifty-seven scientists and crew set out onboard the Nathaniel B. Palmer. Their destination: Thwaites Glacier. Their goal: to learn as much as possible about this mysterious place, never before visited by humans, and believed to be both rapidly deteriorating and capable of making a catastrophic impact on global sea-level rise.

In The Quickening, Elizabeth Rush documents their voyage, offering the sublime — seeing an iceberg for the first time; the staggering waves of the Drake Passage; the torqued, unfamiliar contours of Thwaites — alongside the workaday moments of this groundbreaking expedition. A ping-pong tournament at sea. Long hours in the lab. All the effort that goes into caring for and protecting human life in a place that is inhospitable to it.

UNDER THE RADIANT HILL

Life and the Land in Northwest Scotland

ROBIN NOBLE

- A beautiful and poignant celebration of one of Britain's last wild regions
- Wonderful descriptions of the land, the author's interactions with its wildlife and the challenges — as well as joys — for those who live in remote communities

The northern parish of Assynt boasts some of the most spectacular scenery in Britain. The mountains of Quinag and Suilven dominate a very varied landscape with wild, white hills inland and a complex, intricate moorland to the west. Here, rocky crags, boggy flows, innumerable lochs and burns, stretch to a coast of equal variety with long fjords, high cliffs and sandy beaches. Close to many of the crofting townships are dense areas of native woodland.

In this book, Robin Noble, who has been intimately involved with this corner of the north-west Highlands of Scotland his whole life, celebrates its rugged beauty.

FOOL

In Search of Henry VIII's Closest Man

PETER K. ANDERSSON

- The first biography of Henry VIII's court fool William Somer, a legendary entertainer and one of the most intriguing figures of the Tudor age

In some portraits of Henry VIII there appears another, striking figure — a gaunt and morose-looking man with a shaved head and, in one case, a monkey on his shoulder. This is William or 'Will' Somer, the king's fool, a celebrated wit who reportedly could raise Henry's spirits and spent many hours with him, often alone. Was Somer an 'artificial fool', a cunning comic who could speak freely in front of the king, or a 'natural fool', someone with intellectual disabilities, like many other members of the profession? And what role did he play in the tumultuous and violent Tudor era? Fool is the first biography of Somer — and perhaps the first of a Renaissance fool.

EVERYTHING/NOTHING/SOMEONE

A Memoir

ALICE CARRIÈRE

- This celebrated memoir, one of the most notable literary debuts of 2023 tells of a young woman's coming-of-age in the bohemian '90s, as her adolescence gives way to a struggle with dissociative disorder

Alice Carrière tells the story of her unconventional upbringing in Greenwich Village as the daughter of a remote mother, the renowned artist Jennifer Bartlett, and a charismatic father, European actor Mathieu Carrière. From an early age, Alice is forced to navigate her mother's recovered memories of ritualised sexual abuse, which she turns into art, and her father's confusing attentions. Her days are a mixture of privilege, neglect, loneliness, and danger — a child living in an adult's world, with little-to-no enforcement of boundaries or supervision.

With gallows humour and brutal honesty, Everything/Nothing/Someone explores what it means for our body and mind to belong to us wholly, irrevocably, and on our own terms.

ARTEMISIA GENTILESCHI AND FEMINISM IN EARLY MODERN EUROPE

MARY D GARRARD

- Now in paperback!
- An accessible introduction to the life of the seventeenth-century's most celebrated woman artist

Artemisia Gentileschi is by far the most famous woman artist of the premodern era. Her art addressed issues that resonate today, such as sexual violence and women's problematic relationship to political power. Her powerful paintings with vigorous female protagonists chime with modern audiences, and she is celebrated by feminist critics and scholars.

This book breaks new ground by placing Gentileschi in the context of women's political history. Mary D. Garrard, noted Gentileschi scholar, discusses recently discovered paintings, offers fresh perspectives on known works, and examines the artist anew in the context of feminist history. This beautifully illustrated book gives for the first time a full portrait of a strong woman artist.

PICKLE & FERMENT

Preserve Your Produce & Brew Delicious Probiotic Drinks

SUSAN CROWTHER, JULIE FALLONE, FOREWORD BY TAYLOR HILL ND

- 60 classic and unique recipes for probiotic-rich ferments such as sauerkraut, pickled veggies, salsas, kimchi, sourdough, jun tea and more!

Fermenting, in the simplest definition, is changing food into a healthier version of itself — a version that basically stays fresh, forever. Sounds kind of magical, doesn't it? It kind of is.

Fermenting is what happens when you mix two things together: food and salt. As soon as food and salt are combined, they wake up microbes — bacteria and yeast that are living in and on the food. Susan Crowther and Julie Fallone offer step-by-step instructions for pickling and fermenting all kinds of produce.

WOMAN UP

Pitches, Pay and Periods — the progress and potential of women's football
CARRIE DUNN

- From the author of Unsuitable for Females, shortlisted for The Sunday Times Football Book of the Year 2023

With the triumph of England's Lionesses at Euro 2022, the women's game has been in the spotlight like never before, enjoying unprecedented media attention. But this is the result of decades of struggle to get women's football — banned by the English FA for fifty years — on a more equal footing to its male counterpart. And while the current professional players are starting to reap the rewards of their success on the pitch, their personal journeys have often involved fighting against the odds, and they are still at a disadvantage in many areas, including access to medical treatment, playing facilities and salaries.

THE LAND BEFORE TIME MANAGEMENT ADHDinos

RYAN KEATS

- The first book from the popular ADHDinos webcomic, featuring over 40 new comics
- Funny and relatable pages with information on how to work with persistent ADHD symptoms appear throughout

After he received an adult ADHD diagnosis in early 2022, author and illustrator Ryan Keats made lemons into prehistoric lemonade: he began to use his lived experience to create hilarious comics featuring cute cartoon dinosaurs. The adorable brontosaurus main character, Dino, grapples with so many problematic tendencies we've all experienced, with or without a formal diagnosis of ADHD. And for the increasing number of people who have been diagnosed with Attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder, these comics are a great way to feel seen and empathise with.

SHAME

The Politics and Power of an Emotion

DAVID KEEN

- The uses of shame (and shamelessness) in spheres that range from social media and consumerism to polarised politics and mass violence

Today, we are caught in a shame spiral — a vortex of mutual shaming that pervades everything from politics to social media. We are shamed for our looks, our culture, our ethnicity, our sexuality, our poverty, our wrongdoings, our politics. But what is the point of all this shaming and countershaming? Does it work? And if so, for whom?

In Shame, David Keen explores the function of modern shaming, paying particular attention to how shame is instrumentalised and weaponised. Keen points out that there is usually someone who offers an escape from shame — and that many of those who make this offer have been piling on shame in the first place.

ABOLITION FOR THE PEOPLE

The Movement For A Future Without Policing & Prisons

EDITED BY COLIN KAEPERNICK

- Abolition for the People is a manifesto calling for a world beyond prisons and policing
- Among the current wave of books, this stands out for its focus on the abolition cause and the diversity of its authors

Abolition for the People brings together thirty essays representing a diversity of voices — political prisoners, grassroots organisers, scholars, and relatives of those killed by the anti-Black terrorism of policing and prisons. This collection presents readers with a moral choice: 'Will you continue to be actively complicit in the perpetuation of these systems,' Kaepernick asks in his introduction, 'or will you take action to dismantle them for the benefit of a just future?'

SURVIVING OUR CATASTROPHES

Resilience and Renewal from Hiroshima to the COVID-19 Pandemic

ROBERT JAY LIFTON

- From the National Book Award winner, a powerful and timely rumination on how we can draw on historical examples of 'survivor power' to understand the upheaval and death caused by the COVID-19 pandemic — and collectively heal
- Lifton is one of the world's leading luminaries in the field of psychohistory, the combination of psychiatry and history

In this moving and ultimately hopeful meditation on the psychological aftermath of catastrophe, award-winning psychiatrist Robert Jay Lifton calls forth his life's work to show us how to cope with the lasting effects and legacy of the COVID-19 pandemic.

THE KENNICOTT BIBLE

A Masterpiece of Jewish Book Art

EDITED BY KATRIN KOGMAN-APPEL, MARÍA TERESA ORTEGA-MONASTERIO, JAVIER DEL BARCO

- A beautifully illustrated book on the Kennicott Bible, a remarkable example of Medieval Jewish book art

The Kennicott Bible is among the most celebrated Hebrew Bibles that survive from the Middle Ages. Originating from La Coruña in northern Spain, it features lavish carpet pages, gold leaf silhouettes and abundant marginal decorations. This extraordinary manuscript is a treasure chest of history, culture, devotion, art and cross-cultural collaboration. The story of its survival is a remarkable one and its sumptuous images have delighted readers since its creation in 1476.

THE EMBEDDED PORTRAIT

Giotto, Giotto, Angelico
CHRISTOPHER S. WOOD

- A new study of the early Renaissance portrait

In fourteenth-century Italy, ever more women and men — not only clergy but also laity — introduced their own portraits into sacred paintings. Images of modern supplicants, submissive and prayerful, shared space with the holy narratives. The portraits mimicked the first worshippers of Christ: Mary, the Three Magi, Mary Magdalene. At the same time, they modelled, for modern viewers, ideal involvement in the emotion-laden stories. In The Embedded Portrait, Christopher S. Wood traces these incursions of the real and profane into Florentine sacred painting between Giotto and Fra Angelico.

The portraits not only intruded upon a sacred space, but also intervened in an artwork.

CLOVEN COUNTRY

The Devil and the English Landscape

JEREMY HARTE

- Now in paperback, this is an exploration of the myths of England's deceptively bucolic rolling hills and country lanes believed to be created and shaped by the Dark Lord himself

According to legend, the English landscape — so calm on the surface — is really the Devil's work. Cloven Country tells of rocks hurled into place and valleys carved out by infernal labour. The Devil's hideous strength laid down great roads in one night, and left scars everywhere as the hard stone melted like wax under those burning feet. With roots in medieval folklore, this is not the Satan of prayer, but a clumsy ogre, easily fooled by humankind. When a smart cobbler or cunning young wife outwitted him, they struck a blow for the underdog.

MAKING THE RENAISSANCE MAN

Masculinity in the Courts of Renaissance Italy

TIMOTHY MCCALL

- Looking beyond the marble elegance of Michelangelo's David, the pugnacious, passionate, and — crucially — important story of Renaissance manhood

Making the Renaissance Man explores the images, objects and experiences that fashioned men and masculinity in the courts of fifteenth-century Italy. Across the peninsula, Italian princes fought each other in fierce battles and spectacular jousts; they seduced mistresses, flaunted splendour in lavish rituals of knighting and demonstrated prowess through the hunt, in ostentatious performances of masculinity and rule. Hardly frivolous pastimes, these activities were essential displays of privilege and virility; indeed, violence underlay the cultural veneer of the Italian Renaissance.

DANTE'S NEW LIVES

Biography and Autobiography
ELISA BRILLI, GIULIANO MILANI, TRANSLATED BY MARY MASCHIO, EVA PLESNIK

- From two leading scholars, a thrilling and rich investigation of the life and work of Dante Alighieri

Numerous books have attempted to chronicle the life of Dante Alighieri, yet essential questions remain unanswered. How did this self-taught Florentine become the celebrated author of the Divine Comedy? Was his exile from Florence so extraordinary? How did Dante make himself the main protagonist in his works, in a literary context that advised against it? And why has his life interested so many readers? In Dante's New Lives, eminent scholars Elisa Brilli and Giuliano Milani answer these questions and many more. Their account reappraises Dante's life and work by assessing archival and literary evidence and examining the most recent scholarship. The book is a model of interdisciplinary biography, as fascinating as it is rigorous.

THE BITTER END

The 2020 Presidential Campaign and the Challenge to American Democracy
JOHN SIDES, CHRIS TAUSANOVITCH, LYNN VAVRECK

- Now in paperback!
- What an intensely divisive election portends for American politics

The year 2020 was a tumultuous time in American politics. It brought a global pandemic, protests for racial justice, and a razor-thin presidential election outcome. It culminated in an attack on the U.S. Capitol that attempted to deny Joe Biden's victory. The Bitter End explores the long-term trends and short-term shocks that shaped this dramatic year and what these changes could mean for the future. Expertly chronicling the tensions of an election that came to an explosive finish, The Bitter End presents a detailed account of a year of crises and the dangerous direction in which the country is headed.

THE WISEST FOOL

The Lavish Life of James VI and I
STEVEN VEERAPEN

- James VI and I was one of the most significant British kings. The son of Mary, Queen of Scots, he united the kingdoms of Ireland, England and Scotland when he was crowned in 1603
- A compelling narrative which will appeal to the general reader, lovers of historical biography and fans of Philippa Gregory, Alison Weir and Antonia Fraser with its vivid and absorbing style

James VI and I, the first monarch to reign over Scotland, England and Ireland, has long endured a mixed reputation. To many, he is simply the homosexual King, the inveterate witch-roaster, the smelly sovereign who never washed, the colourless man behind the authorised Bible bearing his name, or the drooling fool whose speech could barely be understood. For too long, he has paled in comparison to his more celebrated Tudor and Stuart forebears.

JUNK SCIENCE AND THE AMERICAN CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

M. CHRIS FABRICANT

- The new paperback edition of Junk Science will have an index, an updated introduction by Fabricant, and an updated final chapter

Innocence Project attorney M. Chris Fabricant presents an insider's journey into the heart of a broken, racist system of justice and the role junk science plays in maintaining the status quo.

From CSI to Forensic Files to the celebrated reputation of the FBI crime lab, forensic scientists have long been mythologised in American popular culture as infallible crime solvers. Juries put their faith in 'expert witnesses' and innocent people have been executed as a result. Innocent people are still on death row today, condemned by junk science. At turns gripping, enraging, illuminating, and moving, Junk Science chronicles Innocence Project's continued fight against junk science.

NEWCASTLE UNITED STOLE MY HEART

Sixty Years in Black and White
MICHAEL CHAPLIN

- Now in paperback!
- A writer's magnificent lifelong obsession with his city and its football club
- Michael Chaplin's career includes executive roles at ITV and the BBC, and his writing credits include highly successful television series such as Monarch of the Glen, amongst others

When 5-year-old Michael Chaplin landed in a strange city of ships in the late 1950s, he looked in vain for something that would anchor him to it, make him feel at home. Then, one Saturday afternoon, it came: the roar of a crowd, and a football team to support. Young Michael became an avid Newcastle United fan, and has remained one — if sometimes disenchanted — for over sixty years.

LOST FEDERATIONS

The (Unofficial) Unmade History of Star Trek
A. J. BLACK

- Bringing together pre-existing material over decades for the first time in one space, plus some new reflections from Star Trek writers, Lost Federations invites you to boldly explore a history you may not already know

We think we know the history of Star Trek. Born at the height of 1960s popular culture, the five-year mission of Captain James T. Kirk and his crew faced early cancellation, bounced back with a series of beloved movies in the 1980s and gave way to a fleet of successful sequels and spin-offs that kept on exploring strange new worlds.

In Lost Federations: The Unofficial Unmade History of Star Trek, author A. J. Black tells a different story. This is an alternate history of the franchise, one filled with roads not taken.

SCOTT CUNNINGHAM — THE PATH TAKEN

Honoring the Life and Legacy of a Wiccan Trailblazer
CHRISTINE CUNNINGHAM ASHWORTH, FOREWORD BY MAT AURYN

- A moving portrait of the iconic figure who led the way in establishing Wicca in North America
- Includes remembrances of his life by his sister, Christine Cunningham Ashworth, and appreciations written by key figures in today's world of witchcraft, magic, tarot, and astrology

The iconic and renowned bestselling author Scott Cunningham (1953-1993) was the central figure in establishing Wicca in North America. His pioneering book Wicca: A Guide for the Solitary Practitioner radically altered the practice of Wicca, enabling practitioners to self-initiate. Scott's books, especially his encyclopedias, remain popular today, years after his death.

THE SYNESTHESIA EXPERIENCE

Tasting Words, Seeing Music, and Hearing Color
MAUREEN SEABERG

- Step into Maureen's shimmering alternate universe as she explores this fascinating subject, combining clear explanations of groundbreaking scientific research with an exploration of deeper understanding of our senses

A violinist sees a scarlet form when he plays a certain note; a rock star sees waves of blue and green as he composes a ballad; an actress tastes cake when she utters the word 'table'. Described by some as a superpower this mingling of the senses is called 'synesthesia', and the people who possess this amazing gift are called 'synesthetes'. For Maureen, synesthesia is not an idle 'brain tick' that can be explained away by science (although it does offer some important clues).

WHO'S RAISING THE KIDS?

Big Tech, Big Business, and the Lives of Children
SUSAN LINN

- From a world-renowned expert on creative play and the impact of commercial marketing on children, a timely investigation into how big tech is hijacking childhood — and what we can do about it

Even before COVID-19, digital technologies had become deeply embedded in children's lives, despite a growing body of research detailing the harms of excessive immersion in the unregulated, powerfully seductive world of the 'kid-tech' industry.

Written with humour and compassion, Who's Raising the Kids? is a unique and highly readable social critique and guide to protecting kids from exploitation by the tech, toy, and entertainment industries.

- Those who are Mary devotees will appreciate the surprising intimacy of The Book, which reflects on memories, personal friendships, and even her name 'Mary Ruefle'

True to its bold title, The Book affirms Mary Ruefle's legacy as (dubbed by Publishers Weekly) 'the patron saint of childhood and the everyday'. With the same curiosity found in Madness, Rack, and Honey and My Private Property, Ruefle's prose here feels both omniscient and especially intimate. 'It seems I believe in a bygone world though I no longer live there,' she writes. 'Will I continue to read about all that is dusty?'

EDGE OF ENGLAND

Landfall in Lincolnshire
DEREK TURNER

- Now in paperback!
- The untold story of a great English county and its people, from the Vikings to Brexit
- Draws on twenty years of exploring and researching about Lincolnshire

Lincolnshire is England's second-largest county — and one of the least well-known. Yet its understated chronicles, unfashionable towns and undervalued countryside conceal fascinating stories, and unique landscapes: its Wolds are lonely and beautiful, its towns characterful; its marshlands and dynamic coast are metaphors of constant change. From plesiosaurs to Puritans, medieval ghosts to eighteenth-century explorers, poets to politicians, and Vikings to Brexit, this marginal county is central to England's identity.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

The Arctic Scots
EDWARD J. COWAN

- This book charts the remarkable contribution to Arctic exploration made by the Scots — whose role has often been overlooked
- Stories of tragedy, exploration, courage and endurance in the search for the Northwest Passage

Surprisingly, the remarkable story of the Scottish role in the discovery of the Northwest Passage — a long desired trade route connecting the Atlantic and Pacific — has not received a great deal of attention.

The awakening of the Scots to the magnificence and dread of the hyperborean regions — as places of discovery, of inspiration and, regrettably, of exploitation — is traced, with particular emphasis on the first half of the nineteenth century until the search for the missing Franklin expedition mid-century.
