KIN

Family in the 21st century

MARINA KAMENEV

- A unique investigation into the modern family which mixes journalism, history, science and technology. Families have changed a lot in the last 50 years but our idea of the 'typical family' has lagged behind the census data
- It's now almost 50 years since IVF treatments began, and over 60 years since the pill was approved for contraceptive use. This book looks at the recent history that has changed the way families exist, as well as future technology like CRISPR which might shape the families of the future
- Big-thinking and not shying away from complex ethical questions, Kin will appeal to readers of books like Andrew Solomon's Far From the Tree and Gina Rushton's The Most Important Job in the World while offering a fresh perspective
- Based on extensive interviews with everyday parents and children, as well as experts, doctors, and researchers, Kin covers challenges often faced by single women and same-sex couples when it comes to conceiving, commercial surrogacy and Australian and international laws that regulate it and much more

'Here's an exercise: Take a piece of paper. Grab a pen, pencil, crayon any drawing utensil within reach. Now, draw a typical family...'

The shape of family has changed in the 21st century. While the nuclear family still exists, there are many more types of kinship that surround us.

Kin is an investigation into the ways we choose, or choose not, to have children today. It delves into the experiences of couples without children, single parents by choice, rainbow families, and investigates the impacts of adoption, sperm donation, IVF and surrogacy, and the potential for a future of designer babies. Assisted-reproductive technology has developed quickly, and the ways in which we think and speak about its implications both legally and ethically need to catch up.

Written by journalist Marina Kamenev, Kin: Family in the 21st century is an incisive and powerful look at how families are created today, and how they might be created in the future.

THE POTATO BOOK

JOHN CLARK NEWSHAM, INTRODUCTION BY KATHY CLUGSTON

- A charming guide to potatoes, covering everything from how to grow them to their origins and history

‘Everybody who possibly can ought to grow potatoes...’

First published towards the end of the First World War, this charming little book is a love letter to the potato, from its origins in South America, to Sir Francis Drake’s travels, the Irish potato famine and the great potato boom of 1903 when the ‘Eldorado’ changed hands at eye-watering prices.

Filled with practical advice which, much of which still holds true today, The Potato Book was written to advocate growing potatoes as a cheap and effective crop against a background of spiralling costs and food shortages. Chapters cover soil preparation, methods of propagating, chitting, planting, earthing-up and recommended varieties from King Edward to Kerr’s Pink. It also describes, with handy diagrams, how to guard against common pests and diseases.

With a witty and wonderful introduction by Kathy Clugston, this is the perfect gift for vegetable growers, allotment enthusiasts or anyone with enduring affection for the humble spud.

TIME TO REBOOT

Feminism in the Algorithm Age

CARLA WILSHIRE

- Eye-opening exposé of how big tech is holding women back
- Australia-wide publicity campaign run by Pitch Projects — TV, radio interviews, nine newspapers extract
- Author events across Australia
- Launch events and writers’ festivals appearances

Technology is radically transforming society. From social media to artificial intelligence, our world is now governed by algorithms, powerful tools that not only predict human behaviour but affect how we look at each other, and ourselves. At the same time, we are seeing hard-fought-for women’s rights being recontested and women feeling increasingly threatened. In America, Roe v Wade has been overturned, while in Australia, the number of sexual assaults reported to police has increased year on year for the past decade. Could it be that the digital revolution is killing feminism?

Time to Reboot explores the new digital gender divide. It shows how the algorithms favoured by Big Tech, designed to respond to and reinforce group characteristics, are dramatically recasting our relationships and our personal values. This book unpacks the uncomfortable parallels between a digital and tech consumer culture we find impossible to resist and the nascent decline of gender equity.

TOWARDS REPRODUCTIVE JUSTICE

RONLI SIFRIS

- Impassioned argument for viewing abortion as a human rights issues
- Australia-wide publicity campaign run by Pitch Projects — TV, radio interviews, nine newspapers extract
- Author events across Australia
- Launch events and writers’ festivals appearances

In June 2022, the United States Supreme Court handed down a decision that overturned Roe v Wade, declaring that the American Constitution did not protect the right to abortion. Several US states immediately banned abortion, while others were quick to enact restrictive regulation. This decision sent shockwaves around the world, including in Australia. It gave Australians reason to pause and consider the extent to which reproductive rights are protected here, and the accessibility of reproductive health care in this country.

Towards Reproductive Justice frames the right to terminate a pregnancy as a human rights issue and considers Australian laws and policies that have significantly advanced reproductive rights. These include legal measures to mitigate the impact of conscientious objection, and the introduction of safe access zones around abortion clinics. It also notes the wave of decriminalisation that has swept across Australia and the importance of removing abortion from the criminal law framework.

HARMFUL AUSTRALIAN MARINE MICROALGAE

GUSTAAF M. HALLEGRAEFF

- The most authoritative and up-to-date guide to Australian harmful marine microalgae, covering over 100 species
- Introduces and describes algal species in an accessible and practical way for students, researchers and practitioners
- Gives aquaculture managers a critical resource toward early warning of seafood toxins in shellfish and aquaculture fish kills

Algal blooms have the potential to wipe out fish farms virtually overnight. Contamination of seafoods with algal toxins can poison human consumers of fish and shellfish. During the past two decades, globally there have been significant increases in economic loss and human health impact due to harmful algal blooms.

Harmful Australian Marine Microalgae offers fish and shellfish farmers information on how to effectively identify and monitor for the presence of algal species and take the appropriate species-specific countermeasures. Species descriptions are accompanied by a summary of the known distribution of the alga, its toxicology and, where available, suggestions for countermeasures. The book includes line drawings, light micrographs and electron micrographs to aid identification, as well as references and resources for further information.

THE CLIMATE CRISIS AND OTHER ANIMALS

RICHARD TWINE

- The first detailed examination of the controversy over emissions from animal agriculture
- The first substantial and comprehensive book focused directly on the climate crisis and human/animal relations
- An appropriately and uniquely interdisciplinary book interweaving critical theory, feminist theory, ecofeminism, critical animal studies, conservation biology, childhood studies, environmental sociology, and transition theory
- The first book to ally critical animal studies with the Capitalocene framework, an important narrative in the environmental social sciences

The Climate Crisis and Other Animals is a must-read for anyone who cares about the future of our planet and the animals who live on it. Twine examines the impact of the climate crisis on non-human animals and argues for the importance of a climate and food justice movement inclusive of nonhuman animals.

The book examines the ways in which climate breakdown is affecting non-human animal species and delves deeply into the politicised controversy over the extent of emissions from animal agriculture, demonstrating the markedly lower emissions of eating vegan.

VITALITY AND CHANGE IN WARLPIRI SONGS

EDITED BY GEORGIA CURRAN, LINDA BARWICK, NICOLAS PETERSON, VALERIE NAPALJARRI MARTIN, SIMON JAPANGARDI FISHER

- Unique perspectives from Warlpiri singers, cultural custodians and researchers who have worked in Warlpiri communities over many decades
- Documents the complexity of classical Warlpiri singing practices
- Contains ideas on performative and musical change spanning long time periods
- Includes colour photography

Warlpiri songs hold together the ceremonies that structure and bind social relationships, and encode detailed information about Warlpiri country, cosmology and kinship. Today, only a small group of the oldest generations has full knowledge of ceremonial songs and their associated meanings, and there is widespread concern about the transmission of these songs to future generations.

While musical and cultural change is normal, threats to attrition driven by large-scale external forces including sedentarisation and modernisation put strain on the systems of social relationships that have sustained Warlpiri cultures for millennia. Despite these concerns, songs remain key to Warlpiri identity and cultural heritage.

CULTURE IS NOT AN INDUSTRY

Reclaiming art and culture for the common good
JUSTIN O'CONNOR

- Radically rethinks art and culture as essential to our society and progress
- Provides much needed new language for the arts and culture sector to describe their purpose and values
- For readers of Culture is bad for you (MUP, 2020). The book will find an audience among professionals in the creative industries, academics and a general readership with an interest art, culture and society

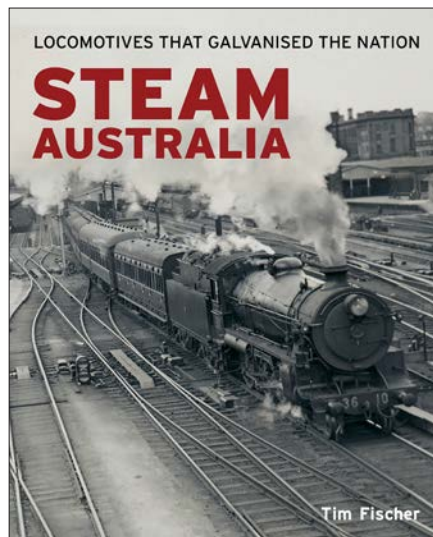

Culture is at the heart to what it means to be human. But twenty-five years ago, the British government rebranded art and culture as 'creative industries', valued for their economic contribution, and set out to launch the UK as the creative workshop of a globalised world.

Where does that leave art and culture now? Facing exhausted workers and a lack of funding and vision, culture finds itself in the grip of accountancy firms, creativity gurus and Ted Talkers. At a time of sweeping geo-political turmoil, culture has been de-politicised, its radical energies reduced to factors of industrial production. This book is about what happens when an essential part of our democratic citizenship, fundamental to our human rights, is reduced to an industry.

WORK YOUR MAGIC

Create a Better Business Community That Works for Everyone
SHARON DARMODY

- Addresses an important issue: Even before the pandemic of 2020, there were a number of threats looming over the workplace that were preventing us from feeling supported at work, and therefore from living fully engaging and satisfying lives; this book addresses these threats, and shows readers how to defuse them
- The Great Resignation showed just how many people feel (or felt) dissatisfied with their work lives; this book gets to the root of why that is, and makes the argument that if we are genuinely interested in our health and well-being, then addressing this unhappiness in the workplace is the low hanging fruit in terms of having a real impact on our overall quality of life

The fallout from the pandemic has yet to be measured, but the way we work will never be the same again. In this accessible, interactive guide, longtime organisational coach and consultant Sharon Darmody reveals what a unique opportunity this has presented to rebuild our working lives from the ground up — to make work work again — and shows readers how to do just that.

- Explores steam locomotion technology and the role these engines played in pivotal moments of Australia’s history
- Highly engaging and accessible for locomotive enthusiasts and those interested in Australian history

Written by former Deputy Prime Minister, The Honourable Tim Fischer, Steam Australia paints a fascinating picture of Australian steam transportation over ten vital decades of transformation; from two world wars, to changes in leadership and even a visit from the Queen, the century of steam locomotion in Australia is also of great political interest. Fischer tracks key steam locomotives that traversed Australia during critical stages of our nation’s development and transported soldiers to fields of conflict as we fought in two world wars.

For a century, from 1850 to 1950, steam locomotive haulage dominated Australia’s various rail systems. During that period, rail networks expanded from a few short routes in the big capital cities to huge networks reaching every corner of each state.

THE CURIOUS WORLD OF SEAHORSES

The Life and Lore of a Marine Marvel
TILL HEIN, TRANSLATED BY RENÉE VON PASCHEN

- With the whimsy and heart of The Soul of an Octopus and the surprising details of the very best science writing, The Curious World of Seahorses brilliantly captures the ocean’s most charismatic and mysterious inhabitant
- Friendly and down-to-earth approach
- Comprehensive focus — including the influence of seahorses on history, mythology, music, and movies
- Seahorses are icons in feminist and transgender communities for their potential to reshape notions of masculinity

‘When God created the seahorse,’ says one marine biologist, ‘he may have had one too many.’

Of all the creatures in the ocean, there are none more charming and magical — or more strange — than the seahorses. Masters of disguise, graceful dancers, and romantic lovers, seahorses are found not only in the seagrass meadows and mangroves of the world, but also throughout the annals of human history and culture — surfacing everywhere from chess and Greek mythology to Disney movies like The Little Mermaid and Pokémon games.

THE ART OF THE CHINESE PICTURE-SCROLL

SHANE MCCAUSLAND

- The first extended history of the Chinese picture-scroll

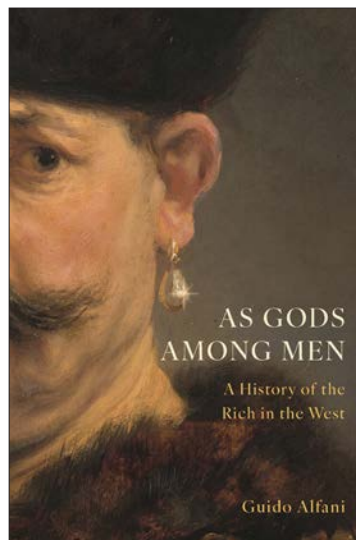

The Chinese picture-scroll, a long painting or calligraphic work held within a horizontal scrolling mount, has been China’s pre-eminent aesthetic format for the last two millennia. This first extended history of the picture-scroll explores its extraordinary longevity, and its adaptability to social, political and technological change. The book describes what the picture-scroll demands of a viewer, how China’s artists grappled with its cultural power, and how collectors and connoisseurs have left their marks on scrolls for later generations to judge. The return to mass appeal of scrolling — a media technology that seemed long outdated yet persists in our digital age — provides urgent and fascinating context to this book.

STUFF

Humanity’s Epic Journey from Naked Ape to Nonstop Shopper
 CHIP COLWELL

- The fun, fascinating tale of humankind’s journey from owning nothing to being owned — by our stuff
- Why, when and how did our needs become world-destroying addictions?
- With landfills brimming & oceans drowning in plastic, now is the time to re-evaluate our relationship with ‘stuff’
- Author’s Plundered Skulls and Stolen Spirits won a half dozen awards

Over 3 million years ago, our ancestors realised they could break apart rocks for sharp edges to cut meat. That discovery changed the fate of our species and our planet.

This lively, learned book charts three great leaps in humans’ relationship with objects and belongings, from the discovery of tools to the production of endless commodities. How did we go from primates who needed nothing to people who need everything? With colourful characters, astonishing archaeological discoveries, and reflections on philosophy and culture, Chip Colwell’s quest for answers takes readers to places both spectacular and strange: the Italian cave housing the world’s first painted art; a Hong Kong skyscraper where a priestess channels the gods; a trash mountain whose height rivals Big Ben or the Statue of Liberty.

AS GODS AMONG MEN

A History of the Rich in the West
 GUIDO ALFANI

- How the rich and the super-rich throughout Western history accumulated their wealth, behaved (or misbehaved) and helped (or didn’t help) their communities in times of crisis

The rich have always fascinated, sometimes in problematic ways. Medieval thinkers feared that the super-rich would act ‘as gods among men’; much more recently Thomas Piketty made wealth central to discussions of inequality. In this book, Guido Alfani offers a history of the rich and super-rich in the West, examining who they were, how they accumulated their wealth and what role they played in society. Covering the last thousand years, with frequent incursions into antiquity, and integrating recent research on economic inequality, Alfani finds — despite the different paths to wealth in different eras — fundamental continuities in the behaviour of the rich and public attitudes towards wealth across Western history. His account offers a novel perspective on current debates about wealth and income disparity.

Alfani argues that the position of the rich and super-rich in Western society has always been intrinsically fragile; their very presence has inspired social unease. In the Middle Ages, an excessive accumulation of wealth was considered sinful; the rich were expected not to appear to be wealthy. Eventually, the rich were deemed useful when they used their wealth to help their communities in times of crisis.

THE ZELENSKY EFFECT

OLGA ONUCH, HENRY E. HALE

- Now in paperback!
- A story of leadership and national identity in the face of corruption and war
- Argues that the meteoric rise of Zelensky on the world stage and the impressive Ukrainian response to Russia’s invasion can be found in the history of the Ukrainian people and nation
- A Ukrainian academic teams up with an American academic to explore the power of President Zelensky
- Zelensky is sure to be studied for years to come as a masterful leader in a time of war

With Russian shells raining on Kyiv and tanks closing in, American forces stood ready to evacuate Ukraine’s neophyte leader, a man whose main qualification just three years earlier seemed to be having played a president on TV. But in what became an international rallying cry, Volodymyr Zelensky reportedly retorted ‘I need ammunition, not a ride’. Ukrainian forces then won the battle for Kyiv, ensuring their country’s future independence even as a longer battle for its southeast set in. You cannot understand the historic events of 2022 without understanding Zelensky. But the Zelensky effect is less about the man himself than about the civic nation in which he was born and that he embodies. In fact, what makes Zelensky most extraordinary in war is his very ordinariness as a Ukrainian, though paradoxically he is ‘ordinary’ in a way few others could be.

THE INNOCENCE OF PONTIUS PILATE

How the Roman Trial of Jesus Shaped History

DAVID LLOYD DUSENBURY

- Now in paperback!
- How have Christianity and Empire been shaped by perceptions of Pilate’s role in the Crucifixion?
- Argues that traditional notions of Pilate’s innocence led to the concept of secularity and the logic of tolerance in early modern Europe
- Shows how understanding that Jesus died ‘under Pontius Pilate’ has ramifications that go far beyond religious history

The gospels and ancient historians agree: Jesus was sentenced to death by Pontius Pilate, the Roman imperial prefect in Jerusalem. To this day, Christians of all churches confess that Jesus died ‘under Pontius Pilate’. But what exactly does that mean?

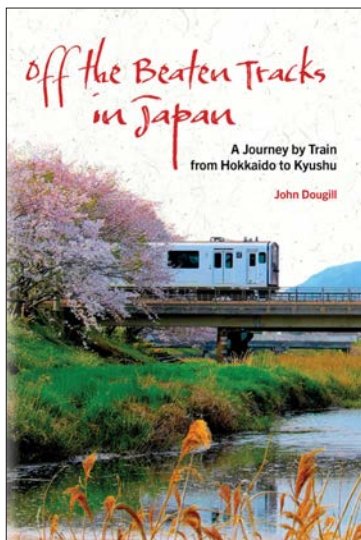

Within decades of Jesus’ death, Christians began suggesting that it was the Judaeon authorities who had crucified Jesus — a notion later echoed in the Qur’an. In the third century, one philosopher raised the notion that, although Pilate had condemned Jesus, he’d done so justly; this idea survives in one of the main strands of modern New Testament criticism. So what is the truth of the matter? And what is the history of that truth?

David Lloyd Dusenbury reveals Pilate’s ‘innocence’ as not only a neglected theological question, but a recurring theme in the history of European political thought.

A Journey by Train from Hokkaido to Kyushu
JOHN DOUGILL

- Observations on the people, culture, and history of Japan from a long-time resident riding the rails along the less-travelled western coastline, consciously inspired by the finest armchair travel books of Donald Richie and Alan Booth
- Travelling the ‘backroads’ of Japan is appealing to many tourists, and this book presents helpful information about travel as well as a wealth of notes on culture and places
- This is not a travel guidebook but a collection of essays tied together by the notion of travel and close observations of people and culture

This journey the length of Japan takes the reader off the beaten tracks to explore some of the country’s remoter regions along the Japan Sea — from Wakkanai in northern Hokkaido to Ibusuki in southern Kyushu — in a fascinating mix of travelogue, anecdote, and personal memoir. At each of the thirty stops along the journey the author, who has lived in Japan for thirty years, goes in quest of the spirit of place, determined to highlight what makes it special. Mixing comments on landscape and culture, the author was inspired by Alan Booth and Donald Richie and brings a contemporary perspective to his writing. The text provides some practical information on travel by rail and railway lines, but goes into far more depth and personal observation than a conventional guidebook for tourists.

WHY FLYING IS MISERABLE
And How to Fix It
GANESH SITARAMAN

- Expert analysis: Policy entrepreneur and law professor Ganesh Sitaraman explains the policies behind the broken airline industry in an engaging, highly readable narrative
- Timely issue: Airline disruptions and breakdowns are increasingly in the news, and many of us have a horror story about air travel. Sitaraman shows us there’s really no reason flying has to be this bad
- Offers solutions: Sitaraman lays out possible — and attainable — solutions that would make air travel more reliable and enjoyable

Why are the airlines always in a crisis?

Everyone has a horror story about air travel — cancellations, delays, lost baggage, tiny seats, poor service. In this day and age, there is no reason that flying should be this bad. In Why Flying Is Miserable, Ganesh Sitaraman, a law professor and policy expert, explains how this happened: It was a conscious choice made by Washington in the 1970s to roll back many forms of regulation that began during the New Deal, in the name of unimpeded capitalism and more competition. Today, the industry is an oligopoly, with only four too-big-to-fail airlines that have received billions of dollars in taxpayer bailouts and still can’t offer reliable service.

THE MAN WHO HACKED THE WORLD

A Ghostwriter's Descent into Madness with John McAfee

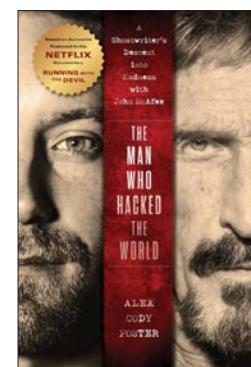

ALEX CODY FOSTER

- Now in paperback!
- A rare inside look at the life and death of the eccentric and wildly controversial creator of the first anti-virus software brought to market — a man haunted by his past while enthralled by his own 'legend'
- Based on accounts featured in the #1 Netflix documentary *Running with the Devil

John McAfee: internet pioneer, presidential candidate, and probable madman.

After parting ways with the eponymous McAfee Antivirus software company in 1994, McAfee embarked on innumerable business, political, and criminal enterprises. From investing in cybersecurity and cryptocurrency, to accusations of murdering his neighbour in Belize, and much more, this larger-than-life man nurtured a rakish public profile while evading law enforcement for his involvement with drugs, weapons, and murder.

UNLOCKING THE SECRET LANGUAGE OF TAROT

22 Keys to Understanding Its Symbolic Imagery

WALD AMBERSTONE, RUTH ANN AMBERSTONE, FOREWORD BY MARY K. GREER

- Reveals the hidden current of symbolic meanings and connections between the 22 major cards; a must-have for any serious tarot reader that is written in accessible language for the novice as well
- Ruth Ann Amberstone and Wald Amberstone cofounded the accredited Tarot School of New York and ran the yearly Readers Studio event

Unlocking the Secret Language of Tarot sets itself apart from other tarot books by teaching readers how to translate the pictorial symbolism from one deck to another, strengthening the reader's ability to recognise specific icons in any deck and in the world around them. It can be used as both a reference book and as a series of guided meditations on the individual symbols. Each of the seven chapters contain a set of symbols that share a common theme. Extensive research provides readers with the lore and mythological meanings of the symbols to help foster intuitive powers.

WANDERER'S TAROT GUIDEBOOK

CASEY ZABALA

- The Wanderer's Tarot*, released in 2021 has sold over 13,000 copies
- The original deck came with a fold-out guide but the author has now made available a full guide to complement this original work
- Includes in-depth interpretations for each card, including reversals, suggested card spreads, and historical information about the Tarot

Wanderer's Tarot is not only a divination tool, but is also used as a gateway to spiritual practice, self-care ritual, and a way to connect with your personal magic. The cards are based on traditional tarot symbolism, which has been transmuted by the need for feminine insight and awakening. For the magical practitioner, Wanderer's Tarot speaks to our magical tools and talismans. The suites of Moons (Cups), Stones (Pentacles), Knives (Swords) and Feathers (Wands) will lead you to a deeper understanding of your personal power — emotionally, materially, mentally, and passionately.

MYRIAM BOULOS: WHAT'S OURS

PHOTOGRAPHS BY MYRIAM BOULOS, TEXT BY MONA ELTAHAWY, MYRIAM BOULOS, DESIGNED BY MAYA MOUMNE

- A searing debut monograph by a young Lebanese photographer and Magnum nominee, presenting an intimate portrait of community, pleasure, and protest in contemporary Beirut
- Compiles new photographs with work previously published and celebrated in Aperture, Time, and *Vanity Fair

In her debut monograph, Myriam Boulos casts an unflinching eye on the revolution that began in Lebanon in 2019 with protests against government corruption and austerity — culminating with the aftermath of the devastating Beirut port explosion of August 2020. She portrays her friends and family with startling energy and intimacy, in states of pleasure and protest. Boulos renders the body in public space as a powerful motif, both visceral and vulnerable in the face of state neglect and violence.

THE NEW SCIENCE OF THE ENCHANTED UNIVERSE

An Anthropology of Most of Humanity

MARSHALL SAHLINS, ASSISTED BY FREDERICK B. HENRY JR.

- One of the world's preeminent cultural anthropologists leaves a last work that fundamentally reconfigures how we study most other cultures

From the perspective of Western modernity, humanity inhabits a disenchanted cosmos. Gods, spirits and ancestors have left us for a transcendent beyond, no longer living in our midst and being involved in all matters of everyday life from the trivial to the dire. Yet the vast majority of cultures throughout human history treat spirits as very real persons, members of a cosmic society who interact with humans and control their fate. In most cultures, even today, people are but a small part of an enchanted universe misconstrued by the transcendent categories of 'religion' and the 'supernatural'. The New Science of the Enchanted Universe shows how anthropologists and other social scientists must rethink these cultures of immanence and study them by their own lights.

THE PIG AND I

The Tale of Our Relationship With a Beast We Eat

KRISTOFFER HATTLELAND ENDRESEN, TRANSLATED BY LUCY MOFFATT

- In this lively and fascinating book, a guilt-ridden, bacon-loving journalist finds work at an industrial pig farm as he researches the long and torrid history of humans and swine
- Explores the ethics of eating pork without passing judgement on the reader — perfect for meat-eaters with a slightly guilty conscience
- For fans of Bill Bryson and Michael Pollan — a quirky and lively read that combines current food issues with popular science, history, and anecdotes

After convincing a skeptical pig farmer to take him on as a hired hand for six months, journalist Kristoffer Endresen follows a litter of piglets from birth to slaughter, all in the hopes of understanding what goes on inside an industrial pig farm and whether humans can ethically justify eating pork...which just so happens to be the most consumed animal protein in the world.

THE STROKES: FIRST TEN YEARS

CODY SMYTH, CONTRIBUTIONS BY CLAUDE FRANQUES, FOREWORD BY MICK ROCK

- The first authorised visual record of one of New York’s greatest bands
- Cody is very close friends with almost all current members of the band and has their full support
- Originally self-published a small batch print run and sold out within weeks

An intimate and impressionistic narrative of The Strokes’ first ten years, including images of the guys when they were students at the Dwight School in Manhattan and would gather for lunches at their local diner. This is a peerless window into the group through the lens of a close friend who was there before it even began.

The book features hundreds of colour and black and white images of the band in public and in private. A truly personal look at the rise of The Strokes — one of the biggest and most enduring bands in the world.

ALL THE YEARS COMBINE

The Grateful Dead in Fifty Shows

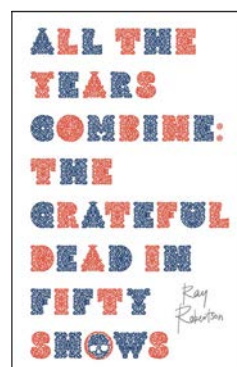

RAY ROBERTSON

- For fans of Cornell '77 and Growing Up Dead by Peter Connors, The ABCs of the Grateful Dead by Howie Abrams, and other Dead books by writers with literary chops
- Robertson’s previous nonfiction has received rave reviews from music and general media alike, and he’ll be an exciting new voice to Dead fan

A Grateful Dead concert, Ray Robertson argues, is life. Like life, it can be alternately compelling and lackluster; familiar and foreign; occasionally sublime and sometimes insipid.

In All the Years Combine: The Grateful Dead in Fifty Shows, Robertson listens to and writes ecstatically about fifty of the band’s most important and memorable concerts in order to better understand who the Grateful Dead were, what they became, and what they meant — and what they continue to mean.

ON COMMUNITY

CASEY PLETT

- Editorial comps and influences include Miriam Toews, Marina Benjamin, Imogen Binnie, and Maggie Nelson
- Readers interested in cultural commentary, linguistics, LGBTQ+ literature, the Biblioasis Field Notes series, and Plett’s previous award-winning work will be anticipating this title

We need community to live. But what does it look like? Why does it often feel like it’s slipping away?

We are all hinged to some definition of a community, be it as simple as where we live, complex as the beliefs we share, or as intentional as those we call family. In an episodic personal essay, Casey Plett draws on a range of firsthand experiences to start a conversation about the larger implications of community as a word, an idea, and a symbol. With each thread a cumulative definition of community, and what it has come to mean to Plett, emerges.

RIVALS

How Scientists Learned to Cooperate

LORRAINE DASTON

- Since the onset of the pandemic, it's become clearer than ever that a global scientific consensus is crucial. This is the story of how scientists, despite their fierce rivalries, were able to work together when faced with global problems
- The author of several trade books, Daston is able to present an intellectual history in a witty, elegant, highly readable narrative

How did 'the scientific community' come into existence, and why does it work? Rivals is an attempt to answer these questions in the form of a brief historical overview.

Drawing upon original documents stored in Paris, Geneva, and Uppsala, historian of science Lorraine Daston offers a fascinating, lively study of successful and unsuccessful scientific collaborations. Rivals is indispensable both as history and as guidance.

HENRYK GROSSMAN
WORKS, VOLUME 3

The Law of Accumulation and Breakdown of the Capitalist System, Being also a Theory of Crises

HENRYK GROSSMAN, EDITED AND TRANSLATED BY RICK KUHN AND JAIRUS BANAJI

- The first full English language translation of Henryk Grossman's *The Law of Accumulation

The Law of Accumulation and Breakdown of the Capitalist System, Being also a Theory of Crises was Henryk Grossman's most important, influential, and also most denounced work. As official Communist economic thought was petrifying, to comply with the needs of the Stalinist state in Russia, Grossman's book challenged the developing dogma. Grossman's recovery of Marx's explanations for capitalism's crises and tendency to break down is as timely as ever.

- A remarkable historical account of the lives and activities of members of the General Jewish Labour Bund, spanning decades and continents

This ground-breaking history of the General Jewish Labour Bund in migration investigates how the organisation transformed itself from a revolutionary protagonist in early twentieth-century Russia to a socialist institution of secular Jewish life and yidishkayt for Jews in North and South America. By following thousands of activists' paths from the shtetls of Eastern Europe to the working-class Yiddish neighbourhoods of New York and Buenos Aires, Frank Wolff traces the networks that connected these revolutionaries.

EDITED BY STUART DAVIS

- Sanctions as War offers the first comprehensive account of economic sanctions as a tool for exercising American power on the global stage

Since the 1980s, the US has steadily increased its reliance on economic sanctions, or the imposition of extensive financial penalties for violation of given rules, to fight its foreign policy battles. Perceived as a less costly and damaging alternative to kinetic military engagement, economic sanctions have been levied against over 25 other countries. In the process, sanctions have destroyed thousands of innocent lives and wreaked inestimable damages to civil society.

SUBJECTIVITY

Marx and Philosophy

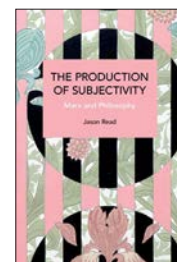

JASON READ

- Examines how central Marxist concepts informed philosophy

Louis Althusser argued that Marx initiated a transformation of philosophy, a new way of doing philosophy. This book follows that provocation to examine the way in which central Marxist concepts and problems from primitive accumulation to real abstraction animate and inform philosophers from Theodor Adorno to Paolo Virno. While also examining the way in which reading Marx casts new light on such philosophers as Spinoza.

At the centre of this transformation is the production of subjectivity, the manner in which relations of production produce ways of thinking and living.

INTERNATIONAL DEPARTURES

Art in India after Independence
DEVIKA SINGH

- A new global history of Indian art after 1947

In this captivating and richly illustrated account, Devika Singh presents together for the first time the work of Indian and foreign artists active in India after independence in 1947. The book engages with the many creators, critics and patrons of the post-war Indian art world, from Bhupen Khakhar, Zarina and Kekoo Gandhi to Isamu Noguchi, Le Corbusier and Clement Greenberg. Singh opens up new ways of thinking about Indian art, closely examining artworks and analysing how they were received in India and abroad. Featuring a wealth of rare and previously unpublished images, this provocative new book explores how artists in India participated in global modernism during a crucial period of decolonisation and nation building.

AMY LYFORD

- Beautifully illustrated with images of Dorothea Tanning's artwork and more, the first — and definitive — study of this important artist's life and creative output

Exquisite Dreams is the first full account of Dorothea Tanning's art and life. Rather than only focusing on her well-known surrealist paintings, this book gives equal weight to Tanning's lesser-known but equally powerful sculptures, abstract paintings and films. Setting Tanning's writings, biography and art into the contexts of advertising, fashion, popular culture and art in New York and Paris, Lyford brings Tanning's ideas and feelings to life. Using new archival sources and analyses of Tanning's work in a variety of media, Lyford broadens our understanding of the artist.

- Hynek and Vallee are two of the most respected names in UFO research
- New Introduction by Jacques Vallee and Foreword by Paul Hynek
- A UFO classic with renewed relevance showcasing cases the authors felt the most intriguing along with their hypothesis on UFOs and possible alien encounters

From the outset, Hynek and Vallee make their position clear: UFOs represent an unknown but real phenomenon. The far-reaching implications take us to the very edge of what we consider known and real in our physical environment. Perhaps, say the authors, UFOs signal the existence of a domain of nature as yet totally unexplored.

MUSLIM WOMEN IN BRITAIN, 1850–1950

100 Years of Hidden History

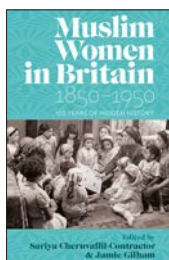

EDITED BY SARIYA

CHERUVALLIL-CONTRACTOR, JAMIE GILHAM

- A landmark volume on the lives of Muslim women across a century of rapid change, restoring lost voices and enriching our picture of British society

The history of British Islam and British Muslims is a growing area of interest among historians and the general public. But, whilst Muslim women have featured in some research, their lives and experiences prior to the present day have remained obscure, if not 'hidden', in both academic and popular discussion. Uncovering Muslim women's experiences and contributions to society in past generations is essential for us to build a full picture of Muslim life in Britain, then and now.

FRANTZ FANON
JAMES S WILLIAMS

- A biography of the revolutionary philosopher and psychiatrist

Doctor, militant, political essayist, ambassador, teacher, journalist, pan-Africanist: Frantz Fanon represented a new model of engaged intellectual who sought to decolonise mid-twentieth-century thought, society and culture and move beyond the ideology of race. Born Black in colonial Martinique, he fought for France during the Second World War but later renounced his native land and aspired to be Algerian during the Algerian War of Independence. Emphasising Fanon's gift for self-invention and performance, Frantz Fanon charts the key turning points in his short, extraordinary life and explores how his pioneering work in psychiatry influenced his revolutionary philosophy. It is essential reading for those who wish to know more about this unique, visionary figure.

- A richly illustrated cultural and natural history of the lethargic animal — from prehistoric ancestry to modern-day memes

Sloths are perhaps the most recognised and loved Central and South American animals, but despite their renown and popularity as cartoon characters, toys and memes, they are not well understood. This book offers a colourful, richly illustrated and wide-ranging account of the biological and cultural history of these fascinating mammals. Alan Rauch explores sloths' gigantic prehistoric ancestors and their evolution into the lethargic, green-hued creatures that live and survive in forest canopies today. From the tale of how sloths were named after a deadly sin to their current status as unflappable icons of a stress-free lifestyle, Sloth shows how fascinating, engaging and inspiring these animals are.

THE EINSTEINIAN REVOLUTION
The Historical Roots of His Breakthrough
JÜRGEN RENN, HANOCH GUTFREUND

- How the Einsteinian revolution can be understood as the result of a long-term evolution of science

The revolution that emerged from Albert Einstein's work in the early twentieth century transformed our understanding of space, time, motion, gravity, matter and radiation. Beginning with Einstein's miracle year of 1905 and continuing through his development of the theory of general relativity, Einstein spurred a revolution that continues to reverberate in modern-day physics. In The Einsteinian Revolution, Hanoach Gutfreund and Jürgen Renn trace the century-long transformation of classical physics and argue that the revolution begun by Einstein was in fact the result of a long-term evolution.

MICHAEL RICHARDS

- Hot price! Was $49.99, now $39.99
- A 'bibliobiography' — structured in a unique and innovative way that tells Bolton's story through key works produced by Brindabella Press

Alec Bolton and His Brindabella Press is an account of a passion: that of a publisher and the books he made for himself and his friends, keeping alive craft traditions that were threatened by unrelenting change.

'Printing is like religion', Alec Bolton once said. 'We live in sin, but with the hope of perfection before us.' And while his life circled around books and writing generally, it was above all with his private press, the Brindabella Press, that he won acclaim as an Australian book arts practitioner.

JORDIE ALBISTON

- Hot Price! Was $29.99, now $24.99
- A remarkable collection of documentary poetry which draws directly on Frank Hurley's diaries, using his own words reinterpreted by award-winning poet Jordie Albiston

In Frank, Jordie Albiston has combined daily snapshots from Australian photographic pioneer Frank Hurley's Antarctic diaries into a moving poetry collage. This volume, comprising about 120 poems, offers a portrait of Hurley as photographer and as man, at the end of the heroic era of exploration. Albiston explores the idea that historical narratives can yield a strange and unexpected power when subjected to the pressures of poetic form, and in this way she brings Hurley's thoughts and actions to life in a manner never seen before.

JOY MCCANN

- Hot Price! Was $49.99, now $34.99
- Comprehensive and authoritative account of Australians in Antarctica

Australians have long been tempted by the lure of the ice to the south, and our Antarctic stories are filled with mystery, exploration, adventure, groundbreaking science, tragedy, and triumph.

The Antarctic region was taking shape in the Australian imagination long before humans ventured into the high southern latitudes. Through their stories about ice and wind, ocean and wildlife, light and darkness, Australians found ways to make sense of the mysterious realm to their south. In the process, they created powerful cultural connections between these two Gondwanan cousins that endure to this day.

'I don't know what sort of photographer I am, but I try to be an honest one.'

Joyce Evans was an unusual phenomenon in the Australian photography scene. Her conversion to photography did not occur until she was already in her forties, while her engagement in professional photography had to wait until she was fifty. She never developed a signature style, nor did she become a template photographer, but she possessed a sensibility that has become characteristic of her work, so that you can quickly recognise a Joyce Evans photograph. She was an artist who possessed a definite photographic personality.

AN UNCOMMON HANGMAN

The life and deaths of Robert 'Nosey Bob' Howard

RACHEL FRANKS

- The gruesome and compelling tale of Robert 'Nosey Bob' Howard, longest-serving executioner for the colony of NSW

**Winner, The Danger Awards 2023, People's Choice Award****

**Shortlisted, The Danger Awards 2023, Non-fiction****

Executioners were once a critical component of the justice system in New South Wales. In an era when judges handed down death sentences as easily as they toasted the good health of the monarch, someone had to do the dirty work of the authorities.

Robert 'Nosey Bob' Howard used to be a household name. Today, the noseless hangman who sparked fear and fascination everywhere he went is largely forgotten, yet Howard is vital to understanding attitudes towards capital punishment in Australia.
